MILLION DOLLARS FOR ENDOWMENT

Important Announcements at Closing Exercises of Trinity College.

DUKES INCREASE THEIR GIFTS

New Departments to College Curriculum—Dr. John Franklin Parker Elected to Chair of Biblical Literature—Notes.

Durham, N. C., June 7.—At the closing exercises of Trinity College this afternoon, announcement was made that the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Methodist Conferences and the Dukes, of New York City, have entered upon a plan whereby Trinity College is to be given a million dollar endowment of which amount $200,000 will be raised by the church.

This announcement came at the close of Jacob Augustus Riis' address and brought prolonged applause. The gift of $100,000 in lands by Jas. B. and Benjamin N. Duke, of $50,000 for a new building by James B. Duke, and of $10,000 by B. N. Duke, for campus improvements, was announced today, thus totaling $160,000 at this commencement and running the Duke philanthropies far above a million and a half to date.

It is understood that soon there will be added medical and dental and pharmaceutical departments, though this is not definite. The faculty adds Rev. Dr. John Franklin Parker, of New Orleans, to the chair of Biblical Literature. He begins September 1st.

The million dollar endowment is to be used, it is supposed, for the purpose of establishing at Trinity College a department or dentistry, medicine, and other much needed additions. The North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences have agreed to raise $100,000 each of this amount, and it is generally supposed that the Dukes will chip in the remaining $800,000. The gifts of this family to Trinity now amount to close on to two million dollars, and with the new addition this institution will be several times more heavily endowed than any other Southern college.

The grand reception to the graduating class was held in the new Washington Duke Building, west wing. Many of the most prominent personages in Durham social life were present and the event was greatly enjoyed by all present. The guests did not leave the halls until early in the morning. The receiving line was composed of President Few and other members of the faculty and students. This was the last event of commencement.

The commencement address was delivered in Craven Memorial Hall this morning by Mr. Jacob August Riis, of New York City. Mr. Riis is an interesting man in every way. He was born in Denmark may years ago, and still has enough of the old Danish brogue about his speaking to make one listen to him with the keenest interest. He began his address by telling an old tradition as to the origin of the flags of the United States and Denmark, telling it because of the fact that he himself was born under the Danish flag, and because his children have been born under the Stars and Stripes. He said that the old legend relates the story that the Danish flag fell from heaven in the year 119 A. D., and he reckoned it was so (laughter), but there were still some stars left, and they were placed in the flag of the United States.

Being engaged, as he is, in the work of bettering the conditions in which the masses live in New York, his address was naturally along that line, though he frequently branched off into telling jokes. He told many sad stories of the life in the slums with which he has dealt so extensively. Mr. Riis' words were along the line of a great religious teacher, and he, like the great divine who delivered the sermon yesterday, exhorted his hearers to upright living, and plead with them to follow in the paths trodden by the feet of Jesus.

It would be impossible to give here the address in full, but this great man, made famous by many books which bear his name, by his works of reform in the great cities, and by his deep interest and accomplishments in behalf of those who live in the slums of the greater cities, held his audience almost spellbound for nearly an hour.

Immediately following the address, diplomas were presented to the following, and the degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon them: Hugh Bandy Adams, Four Oaks; Emma Babbitt, Bayboro; William Raymond Bell, Concord; Joseph Edward Brinn, Hertford; Mabel Bruce, Durham; Srnest Calvin Cheek, Durham; Jefferson Beery Courtney, Lenoir; Thomas Graham Elliott, Durham; Robert Lee Ferguson, Durham; Clyde Olin Fisher, Cary; Woodfin Grady Gaston, Lowell; Fannie Gladstein, Durham; Benjamin Gause Gregg, Jr., Florence, S. C.; Phillip Franklin Hanes, Mocksville; Henry Grady Hedrick, Lexington; Henry Reid Hunter,

TRIPPLE POISON TRAGEDY

Husband of Baltimore Woman and Wife of Her Paramour Dead Under Suspicious Circumstances—Same Name.

Baltimore, June 7.—Charged with murdering Morris Cohen and Sarah Cohen, by administering poison to them in their food, Ida Cohen, wife of the dead man, and another Morris Cohen, husband of the dead woman, were arrested today. The motive of the alleged crimes is thought by the detectives to have been the desire of the couple under arrest to get rid of their wife and husband in order that the attachment of the living Morris Cohen and Ida Cohen might be more favorably fostered.

An analysis of the viscera of the deceased couple whose deaths occurred about three weeks apart last month, disclosed traces of poison, according to the police. The accused pair have maintained that the death of their respective sopuses was due to ptomaine poisoning.

The living Morris Cohen is an uncle of the dead man. Both were tailors. Samuel C. Cohen, the ten-year-old son of Mrs. Sarah Cohen, died a few days before his mother, under mysterious circumstances.

LONDON'S GREAT FESTIVITIES.

Thousands of Visitors Arriving—The Japanese Contingent There.

London, June 7.—Already a quarter of a million visitors are here for the coronation, but the shop-keepers and hotel keepers are disappointed at the absence of the hoped for influx of Americans. The police regulations for the control of the crowds on the days of the processions will be more stringent than ever before. Temporary gates are being erected in all thoroughfares through which the processions will pass, and these will be closed as soon a the route is comfortably lined with spectators. Probably this will be as early as 6 or 7 o'clock in the morning, after which the center of London will be a walled-in city. This method of closing the streets is expected to prove more efficient than the old system of employing cavalry to keep back the crowds.

One of the chief events of the day was the arrival of the Japanese deputation including Prince and Princess Higashi Fushimi, the prince representing the Emperor, and the Japanese war heroes, Admiral Togo and General Nogi. There was no official reception because the deputation is not due officially until June 19th. The Prince and Princess will spend the intervening time at Eastbourne, a watering place on the coast of Sussex, while Admiral Togo and General Nohi will remain in London. The two war veterans were cheered as they drove around Hyde Pork this afternoon. Queen Mary received today at the Buckingham Palace the committee representing the Marys of the Empire who presented to her majesty their coronation gift—a check for $60,000.

HORNET TO HAVE TRIAL.

Will Be Brought to New Orleans—May Be Confiscated.

Washington, June 7.—The little gunboat Hornet, detained in Honduran waters by a United States war vessel and charged with being a filibusterer in the recent revolution against Honduras, will be returned to New Orleans in a few days for trial in the libel suit instituted by the Department of Justice alleging violation of the neutrality statutes of the United States. This involves the forfeiture of the vessel. The American gunboat Wheeling now at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, with the Hornet, has been instructed to arrange for the return of the vessel to American jurisdiction.

The Hornet sailed from New Orleans, unarmed on December 22nd, but later appeared in Honduran waters as a fighting ship. Her registry was changed from American to Honduran while at Rutan Island by officials, it is claimed, appointed by Manuel Bonilla, the leader of the revolution. Several weeks ago the State Department asked the governor of Honduras if it desired to legalize this register and accept the Hornet as a government vessel. The Honduran government, it is said here, does not appear to be interested in this direction and consequently the little ship will be brought immediately to American jurisdiction for trial.

AGAINST MORMONISM.

Reform Presbyterians Protest Against Likeness of Brigham Young.

Pittsburg, June 7.—Resolutions protesting against the acceptance of the silver service for the battleship Utah, on which is engraved a picture of the Mormon Temple and a likeness of Brigham Young, were adopted by the Reformed Presbyterian Synod in session here today. The Synod holds that "the service would suggest to representatives of foreign nations that the people of the United States regard Mormonism with respect instead of abhorrence and Brigham Young as a benefactor of the nation."

After ordering that copies of the resolution be sent to President Taft and Secretary of the Navy Meyer, it concludes: "We earnestly pray you that the nation may be spared the pain and shame of this disgrace."

BITTER DEBATE ON WOOL TARIFF

Skirmishing Opened Lively in House of Representatives Yesterday.

HOT SHOT FROM UNDERWOOD

Payne Fights Back for Republicans and Declared Payne Bill Is Revision—Democrat Derides Tariff Board.

Washington, June 7.—Bitterness of political debate such as has not characterized any of the opening tariff skirmishes of the present Congress, cropped out in the debate in the beginning of the wool tariff discussion in the House today. Democratic Lader Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, devoted the afternoon to an explanation of the proposed revision of the wool tariff, and to an attack upon the Payne tariff law and the Republican party.

He was met at almost every stage of his argument by replies from former Chairman Payne, now the ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee; and by other Republicans who questioned his statements and his arguments. Mr. Payne denied vigorously the Democratic charge that the Payne law had not fulfilled Republican promises of tariff revision; and he criticised in detail Mr. Underwood's statements that the country's revenue was declining and the Treasury approaching a deficit.

Mr. Payne will lead the opposition to the Democratic bill and will probably make the opening speech tomorrow. No limit has been set to the debate, and notwithstanding Mr. Underwood's hope that it can be concluded in a week, it is exepected to last well into, if not through, the second week.

Mr. Underwood declared that the American Woolen Company had dictated the action of the Republican Congress in Wool tariff.

"There is nobody in this country who does not know that the American Woolen Company today fixes the prices," said Mr. Underwood; "that it is a monopoly, that it is a trust and that that industry and that company dictated to a Republican House, when they prohibited you from reducing the exorbitant rates under Schedule K, in the last Congress."

Paying his respects to the present Tariff Board, Mr. Underwood said that "if that body went on for ten years as it is going at present, we wouldn't get enough information on the wool schedule to write a tariff bill."

While not questioning "the sincerity or honesty of purpose of President Taft, Mr. Underwood said he was convinced that either the board refused to give up facts we called for, even with the President's sanction, or else the board has wasted a quarter of a million dollars in its work."

RECIPROCITY HANGS FIRE.

Senate Committee Not Yet Ready to Report Bill.

Washington, June 7. — Following four hours of discussion of the Canadian reciprocity bill by the Senate Finance Committee in executive session today, Chairman Penrose expressed the opinion that any amendment which might be adopted by the committee would be killed on the floor of the Senate. It was thought at first that some compromise might be reached on the Root amendment to the paper and wood pulp clause which amendment has been objected to as fatal to the agreement, but such a compromise was found impossible. It is not believed that any amendment other than that offered by Senator Root will have even a chance of adoption in committee.

The committee's deliberations today were without result so far as voting on the bill or any amendment was concerned and it was declared doubtful whether the committee would be ready to report the measure tomorrow. Most of today's session was devoted to debate over the Root amendment. That amendment provides that it shall not be in force until the President is satisfied and has issued a proclamation that wood pulp, paper and board is being admitted free of duty from this country into all the provinces of Canada.

Secretary of State Knox was summoned before the committee to enlighten it as to any understanding between the framers of the agreement which might clear up the situation as to the Root amendment. But Secretary Knox told the committee that they had the entire agreement before them and had, therefore, as much knowledge as he as to the effect of any amendments they might make. He declined to answer definitely the question as to whether in his opinion the Root amendment would kill the measure.

GREAT STRIKE THREATENED

Five Thousand Garment Workers of Cleveland Have Quit Work—Trouble May Assume National Importance.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 7.—The outlook tonight is that the fight between the Union Garment Workers of Cleveland, who struck today, and the manufacturers, will be a long and bitter struggle when a national aspect as the workers will have the moral and financial support of the International Garment Workers' Union, and it is claimed outside manufacturers will give like support to the manufacturers of Cleveland.

The strike leaders claim that over 5,000 workers, men, women and girls, or 95 per cent. of the garment workers of the city, joined in the strike including several hundred non-union workers. The manufacturers' association claim that not over 4,000 were out.

Following their parade through the downtown streets, this forenoon, the strikers held district meetings and made plans for the struggle, including the picketing of the shops and factories.

President S. I. Schwarz, of the Manufacturers' Association, claims the association will stand pat even to the extent of closing the shops all Summer; also that the strike was fostered by strike leaders from New York who "wanted a strike here to help bolster up the results of the recent strike in New York." The strikers demands include the following:

"That working hours be limited to fifty per week, with no Saturday afternoon or Sunday work; that there be not more than two hours overtime a day with double time for overtime by week workers; that there shall be no charge for machines, silk or cotton; that inside contracting and sub-contracting is prohibited; that no operator or tailor be allowed more than one helper; that overtime contracts be prohibited except with foremen, designers and pattern graders; that the price list be conspicuously displayed; and all prices be adjusted by a joint committee, selected by the shop employes, the outside contractors and a representative of the firm.

The strikers have adopted a policy of being orderly in everything.

POTASH CONTROVERSY HANGS.

Steps Which Indicate Failure of Negotiations.

Berlin, June 7.—Representatives of American potash interests today served the owners of independent German potash mines with the formal notice that they will refuse to accept deliveries of potash subject to the payment of a super-contingent tax.

After an agreement regarding contracts was reached between the Americans and the German Potash Syndicate, May 18th, negotiations were opened with the independents, whose contracts with the Americans are responsible for the present German potash law. The German contractors insist that the American firms are responsible for the tax.

The Americans' action today indicates that the negotiations have failed and the firms probably will bring suit against the Americans in the United States courts to enforce the tax.

GEN. CARR'S DAUGHTER WEDS.

Married in Washington and Gone on Honeymoon Trip.

Washington, June 7.—Miss Annie Bruce Carr, daughter of the late Governor Elias Carr, of North Carolina, and Mr. Douglas Bovard Sterrett, of this city, were married at the residence of the bride's brother here tonight. Mr. Sterrett is the son of Rev. J McBride Sterrett, who officiated at the ceremony. The couple later left for a honeymoon trip through the West. They will reside at Springland, Md., on their return.

MADERO ENTERS MEXICAN CAPITAL

Shouting Multitudes Greet Revolutionary Victor With Vivas.

TRIUMPHANT RIDE TO PALACE

Senor Madero and Wife Showered With Bouquets—Carriage Is Drawn by 4 Gray Horses—Streets Decorated.

Mexico City, June 7.—Sounding a note of political freedom for all the countries of North and South America, Francisco I. Madero, Jr., welcomed with wild acclaim today to the capital of Mexico as the hero of a successful revolution that threw off the old style, despotic rule of the Diaz regime, tonight expressed the hope that the Mexican revolution would cause the peoples of Central and South American countries to seek political freedom.

"When a people fight for liberty and conquer the triumph is well received in neighboring countries," he said. "The spirit of liberty will not be satisfied, and we all will really not be happy until in the whole American continent the reign of democracy is complete."

This sentiment was foremost in the speech of Senor Madero to thousands of people, including many Latin-Americans who surrounded him in front of his home tonight as a climax to his vociferous welcome today.

Led by the Venezuelan colony, the throng burst into an almost frenzied shout when he bespoke the hope that Central and South American countries would participate in the era of civic freedom which he believed had dawned in Latin America.

Mr. Madero spoke enthusiastically of his meeting today with President de LaBarra, asserting his confidence that perfect harmony would prevail and that the administration would busy itself in tranquilizing the country.

Mr. Madero's meeting with President de LaBarra whom he had never met before, at the National palace, was impressive. The two men chatted for a few minutes.

"A great work has been done," said Mr. de LaBarra, "but there is much expected of us. From the way you have been received in the capital, I am confident all will be accomplished that should be, and with the support of the populace."

Mr. Madero expressed his confidence in President de LaBarra, asserting that he was glad that Mexico had at the head of its government so eminent and honorable a man.

The parting of the two men was cordial. Escorted to the gateway of the palace court by Federal guards, Mr. Madero again entered the cheering throng of citizens and continued his procession, which had started at the railroad station, through the streets to his home.

Tonight noisy celebrators filled the streets and paraded without rioting. Mr. Madero was closely guarded throughout the day.

One of Madero's guards observed a man with a pistol drawn, and wrested the weapon from the man's hand and forced him back into the crowd. Several persons were injured in the press of the crowds, but there were no fatalities.

During the march in the streets a board platform over an excavation gave way and 20 persons fell into the ditch. Mr. Madero stopped his carriage and ordered his bodyguard to assist them. They were all rescued without injury and the procession continued.

Triumphant Entrance.

Mexico City, June 7.—If there was doubt in the minds of any one as to the sentiment of the people in the capital toward Francisco I. Madero, Jr., hero of the late revolution, it must have been dispelled today by the cheers that greeted his arrival from Juarez, following the success of his revolt from the Diaz regime.

Thousands on thousands packed the inclosure in front of the railroad station, lined the fences and walls, roofs of houses and filled windows and balconies at every point which afforded a view of the station entrance. The shout was in turn echoed by thousands who packed the streets.

The coach to which Mr. and Mrs. Madero were escorted was drawn by four iron-gray hores which were managed by postillions in green jackets, white trousers, colonial wigs and green caps. With Senor Madero and his wife rode Alfredo Robles Dominguez, now chief of this military zone.

Lines of khaki-clad horsemen made a line of rearing and plunging horses through which members of the party walked to the coach. Bouquets of flowers and wreaths of myrtle were tossed in the path of the victor and his wife and into the carriages as the Madero party drove through the cheering multitude.

Dozens of banners identified different contingents of the crowd which packed in about the Madero carriages. With great difficulty the mounted escort made way for the Madero carriage through the gaes and over into

GOBBLE OF TENNESSEE COAL

Judge Gary Flatly Contradicts Testimony of John W. Gates—Roosevelt Approved Deal of the Steel Trust.

Washington, June 7.—Judge Elbert J. Gary, executive head of the United States Steel Corporation, told the House Committee of Judiciary today a version of the formation of that enterprise which contradicted the testimony of John W. Gates that the threats of Andrew Carnegie to build rival railroads and tube works had induced J. Pierpont Morgan to institute negotiations culminating in the gigantic steel corporation. Mr. Gary also declared that if former President Roosevelt had not approved of the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation, he (Mr. Gary) never would have voted to consummate that deal. Mr. Gary will resume his testimony tomorrow. Mr. Gary discussed the financial panic of 1907 when the Tennessee company was taken over in a claimed effort to avert the failure of the New York brokerage firm of Moore & Schley and consequent disastrous results in the banking world.

"You have no idea," he said, "of the financial frenzy which possessed New York in that panic. It would have been very easy for that panic to have gone beyond all bounds and affected the entire country. Any man interested in the banks of New York at that time would no more think of doing anything to injure any other bank than one of us would think of throwing a lighted match into a powder magazine near us. Any decent man, with sense enough to protect his own interests, would not intentionally do anything to injure another."

This declaration was made after Mr. Gary had been asked for more details relating to his conference with Mr. Roosevelt regarding the Tennessee deal and his declaration that he regarded Mr. Roosevelt's refusal to interfere in the transaction as an act of great "constructive statesmanship."

Chairman Stanley interjected "destructive as well as constructive."

"It was not destructive," insisted Judge Gary. "We did not acquire the property of a competitor as any consequence. We did not want to create a monopoly of the steel business."

Mr. Gary further stated that the United States Steel Corporation never wanted a monopoly of the iron and steel business of the country.

"We consistently have opposed securing a moponoly," he said. "We know that the very worst thing that could happen to the United States Steel Corporation is to secure a monopoly."

"How long have you been afraid to try the full control of the trade"? Chairman Stanley asked.

"Ever since the corporation was organized," replied Mr. Gary.

Judge Gary declared that President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Root not only sanctioned the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the Steel Corporation, but held it to be necessary to avert widespread financial disaster.

Mr. Gary declared anew that financial conditions in 1907 were such that something had to be done to prevent a panic. The conference at the White House, he declared, was the final step in the campaign of prevention and he added that if the administration had declined to permit the combination of the two big steel properties he would have opposed it in the Steel Corporation. He insisted that the impression made on his mind and the mind of those with him was that both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Root fully recognized the necessity for the merger and accepted it as imperative if a financial cataclysm was to be averted.

"If President Roosevelt and Mr. Root, then Secretary of State, had objected to this transaction," suggested Representative Bartlett, of Georgia, "would the United States Steel Corporation still have purchased the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company?"

"I think I surely would have voted against the purchase," Mr. Gary replied.

Discussing the successive conferences between Messrs. Morgan, Frick, Schwab, Robert, Bacon and others, relative to the formation of the United States Steel Corporation, Mr. Gary said:

"On Sunday morning Mr. Robert Bacon, then a partner in the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., came to my house. He said that the night before Mr. Schwab had surprised Mr. Morgan by showing him a letter from Mr. Carnegie stating that he would sell his steel property and take bonds in payment for it. There had been a conference at Mr. Morgan's house. Mr. Bacon did not tell me anything about Mr. John W. Gates having been there. I never heard that he was there until I read his testimony before this committee in which he said he was at Mr. Morgan's house and that the plan of the United States Steel Corporation was formulated there. I cannot see how it could be that such plans were made that night."

Mr. Gary told of telling Mr. Morgan that if through the acquisition of the Carnegie Company a corporation could be completed large enough and rich enough to furnish adequate finishing mills and increase the export business, the proposition was worth considering and that Mr. Morgan said to him: "It seems to me that if you think a consolidation of steel interests on

MEXICO SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKE

Sixty-Three Persons Killed and Seventy-Five Injured.

SOLDIERS WERE THE VICTIMS

Shock Severest in Many Years—Property Loss $100,000—Note of Tragedy Greets Coming of Madero to Capital.

Mexico City, June 7.—Sixty-three persons were killed, 75 wounded and property worth $100,000 was wrecked today by an earthquake which shook the Mexican capital and injected a note of tragedy into what was to be a day of pure rejoicing over the arrival of Francisco I. Madero, Jr.

When the work of searching the ruins is completed, it is possible that the live or dead will be increased somewhat as here and there throughout the city there doubtless are many wounded who, with traditional fear of the authorities and government hospitals, are anxious to evade discovery.

The property loss estimate is based on calculations made by owners and contractors. Little of the loss is covered by insurance.

It was 4:36 o'clock when the first shock was felt. According to the meteorolagical observatory the greatest intensity was reached at the end of the first minute, but the instruments continued to record the shocks 14 minutes more. The disturbance was vaccillating, and almost free from trepidatory motion.

More than half of the dead accounted for were soldiers. They were caught beneath the falling walls of the artillery barracks in San Cosma near the Mexican Central station.

Another place where the earthquake took its toll of death in considerable numbers, was at the city power plant of the street car company. There six persons were killed and six wounded Two others were found in the debris, consisting partly of steel rails which had been stacked in the iron and wood departments. The victims were inhabitants of shacks, built along beside the structure.

With these two exceptions the death list was made up of single cases, or in a few instances of two and three persons caught beneath falling walls in unsubstantial buildings.

Although the shock was plainly felt in all parts of the city, few realized the magnitude of the catastrophe until late in the forenoon, because the casualties were confined to a comparatively small area. The inhabitants were slow to realize that this was the most serious shock the capital has suffered in a score of years.

No personal property of Americans was damaged, and, with the exception of one Chinese killed, no foreigners were injured. In the barracks where the soldiers were killed, 12 women also lost their lives. They were the wives of artillerymen.

Seventy-two soldiers were sleeping in the house. Approximately 35 were quartered on the first floor, the remainder on the second. The outer wall fell away and the roof, crashing down on the sleeping men on the second floor, hurled them down through the ceiling on their comrades below. The bodies of 30 soldiers have been recovered. Three are missing and 16 are wounded, a few severely.

Those who escaped began the work of rescue at once. Women whose soldier husbands were in the pile, stood by waiting in groups while children clug to their mothers' dresses and stared curiously at the gruesome scene. Ambulances later carried the wounded to the military hospitals and the dead to Dolores cemetery.

Three blocks from the barracks the yards of the Mexican Central, at which Madero had been scheduled to enter, presented another spectacle of the shock's intensity. There a long wall separating these yards from those of the Mexican Railway, was thrown down. An engineer who was lying by its side, was crushed to death. A warehouse of the Mexican Central was mostly wrecked, one wall and a portion of the building collapsing About one-third of the roundhouse was torn down. No casualties were reported there.

The police reports of the quake today and tonight did not record the death of any person of prominence. The victims were those whose homes were in cheaply built houses, or shacks. In most cases the walls that fell had little power of resistance.

The fury of the shock was felt only in the northwestern and the western parts of the city. The most damage done was in that quarter known as "Santa Maria," although cracked pavements and broken walls mark its course as far to the south as Colonia Roma, inhabited largely by Americans. In this quarter, however, little damage was done, and no deaths have been reported.

Cracks show here and there in pavements throughout the area affected and now and then asphalt is buckled into ridges from three to five inches high. Walls of soft stone and adobe bricks fell in scores of places, giv-

FROM CHARLOTTE BY AUTO.

Wilmington Party Makes Fine Trip Overland From Queen City.

Arriving in the city yesterday noon were Mr. Walter P. Sprunt and his friends, Mr. J. B. Huntington, general secretary of the Wilmington Y. M. C. A., Mr. Wm. H. Sprunt, Jr., and Mr. W. L. Moore, who formed an automobile party from Charlotte to this city in Mr. Sprunt's handsome Oldsmobile touring car. They came down from Charlotte in a little more than a day and a half, though the remarkable part of the run, following the rains of the past few days, was from Charlotte to Chadbourn, a distance of 177 miles, which was covered the first day, leaving Charlotte at 4 A. M. Tuesday and reaching Chadbourn at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. From Chadbourn to this city yesterday they took the run leisurely, but reached the city in great shape. The finish here was really a continuous trip for the Oldsmobile from Greenville, S. C., to Wilmington, via Charlotte. Mr. Alex. Sprunt, who graduated last week at Davidson College, took the car for a run over to Greenville and return, meeting the Wilmington party in Charlotte and returning home by rail himself, Mr. Walter Sprunt and party completing the run to this city. The Oldsmobile has within the past ten days or a little more, made a remarkable record for endurance, having covered something like 1,800 miles without "missing a stroke", in the parlance of the road. The party had a delightful run down from Charlotte and were enthusiastically received by their friends upon their arrival.

BOYS' BRIGADE OUTING.

Annual Excursion to Carolina Beach Yesterday—Large Crowd.

The Boys' Brigade gave its annual excursion to Carolina Beach yesterday and a large number of the members of the organization and their friends took advantage of the opportunity to visit the delightful resort. The steamer Wilmington made three trips to the pier and return and on each there were a goodly number of passengers aboard. The last boat returned to the city at midnight and most of the party returned at that time. A local orchestra furnished music at the pavilion during the day and dancing was the principal form of diversion for a large number of the party. The net proceeds of the excursion will be used by the Brigade in defraying the expenses of the annual encampment, which will be held at Southport as usual.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Miss Emily Bridgers to Cornelius VanLeuven, for $100 and other considerations, lot on northside of Princess, 1.2 feet east of 17th, 66x165 feet in size; W. H. Howell and wife and Andrew J. Howell and wife to Geo. H. Howell, for $10 and other considerations, lot on east side of Seventh, 94 1-2 feet south of Market street, 31 1-4x66 feet in size; Geo. H. Howell to Andrew J. Howell and Wm. H. Howell, for $10 and other considerations, lot on east side of Seventh, 12o 3-4 feet south of Market street, 31 1-2x66 feet in size; A. W. Pate and wife and J. N. Chadwick, Jr., to Mary E. Hill, for $10 and other considerations, lot on east side of Seventh, 99 feet north of Wright street, 33x165 feet in size.

Return to Their Farm.

Masters Julian and Marion Keith, the bright and energetic young sons of Mr. B. F. Keith, left yesterday for their father's plantation at Keith's, on the Black river, where they begin the cultivation and harvesting of their third crop. While the boys were in school here the crop was being planted by hired men and now that school is out for the vacation period the young farmers have gone to take charge of things on the farm. They went up on the steamer Alice. The lads had splendid success with their crops the past two seasons and the prediction is made by those who know them that it will not be their fault if a large crop is not harvested this year.

The Recorder's Court.

In the Recorder's court yesterday, the case against Herman Schlever, a white man, charged with abandonment, was continued until today. The case against Buddie Howard, colored, charged with assault with deadly weapon on another negro recently, was continued until Friday as the wounded negro is not yet able to leave the hospital, but is steadily improving. Four defendants charged with violating the driving ordinance by going on the wrong side of the street were found not guilty, while two were convicted and taxed with the costs. Two drunks were required to pay $5 each and costs.

CURES PIMPLES EASY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past J. Hicks Bunting Co. have done the biggest business it ever had in any one article in selling Hokara, the skin food that has won so many friends in Wilmington.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, ache, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound on disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not heal, and its action is so instantaneous that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling To convince every one of its merits, they will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25 cents. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

If the skin trouble is caused by impure blood or if the bowels are inactive, use Hokara Blood Tablets. They cool and cleanse the blood and regulate the bowels in a natural way.

LOCAL DOTS.

—License has been issued for the marriage for Mr. Ross Kennedy and Miss Hester Senk, daughter of Mr. Chas. Senk, both of this city.

Painful Accident to Child.

While playing in front of the residence of the parents Tuesday afternoon, a child of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Turrentine, Jr., had the misfortune to get the snap from a hitching chain caught through the lips, inflicting a painful wound. The child was attended by a physician and at last accounts was doing very well.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST JEWS.

Congress May Take Hand—May be An Investigation.

Washington, June 7.—Resolutions demanding investigations in the army and navy to determine whether Jews are discriminated against were introduced in the House today by Representative Edwards, of Georgia. They grew out of the recent publication of President Taft's censure of Col. Garrard, who opposed the elevation of a Jew from the ranks.

The resolutions would direct the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy "to institute an immediate investigation to ascertain how far and what discriminations are operating against Jews" in the army, navy, marine corps, naval academy, military academy and all branches of the services.

Bluefields, W. Va., June 7.—Returning home from a church social last night, James Payne, John Ashworth, Martha Noel and Edward Jones were run down by a freight train at Laeger, W. Va., and instantly killed.

SEIZED UNDER EXECUTION

Property of Mr. W. E. Worth Levied Upon Yesterday to Satisfy Judgment of Knickerbocker Trust Co., in Federal Court.

Following the issuance Tuesday of an execution by Mr. S. P. Collier, clerk of United States Court in this city, property of Mr. Wm. E. Worth was seized yesterday morning by United States Deputy Marshal J. T. Sharp, of Raleigh, to satisfy a recent judgment obtained by the Knickerbocker Trust Co., of New York, amounting in the aggregate to about $33,000. Mr. Worth will regain possession of his property by giving bond, otherwise it would be advertised and sold on the first Monday in August.

Mr. Sharp levied upon the property, corner of Water and Dock streets, some land in Cape Fear township, Mr. Worth's interest in his father's estate and some stock and bonds. The property will be properly advertised and unless the bond is given the sale will be held in August. However, it is thought very probable that Mr. Worth will give the bond and regain possession of his property.

The judgment against Mr. Worth was obtained by the Knickerbocker Trust Co., at the last term of United States Court. The suit was brought by the Knickerbocker Trust Co., for approximately $30,00 alleged to be due under a contract which Mr. Worth signed for stock in the Rockingham Power Company, which concern failed and which was financed by the plaintiff in this action. Mr. Worth paid $9,000 of the amount of his subscription and then refused to pay the remainder, alleging fraud as the reason. The case did not go to the jury, Judge Connor holding that there was no element of fraud and that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the amount due on the contract, which bore Mr. Worth's signature. Judgment was entered for the amount sued for with interest, making a total of about $33,000. Counsel for the defendant gave notice of an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals, but it is understood that the appeal has not been perfected, though it probably will be within the next few days. The appeal to the higher court does not affect the execution and seizure of the property, however.

Mr. Worth has a suit in the State courts against the Knickerbocker Trust Co., Hugh MacRae & Co., and others, which is practically a counteraction to the United States Court case. It was on the calendar for trial at this term of court, but was continued until next term at the request of counsel for the plaintiff, who desired to amend the pleadings. Mr. Worth is represented by Hon. John D. Bellamy and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan while Thos. W. Davis, Esq., of this city, and Julian T. Davies, of New York City, appear for the Knickerbocker Trust Co.

Grand Theatre.

Today the Theatre Beautiful is offering four of the very latest makes of pictures. The headliner is the very newest Biograph production of "A Smile of A Child." The Pathe people are also presenting a late comedy, "Shame of Max." This is a scream from start to finish and should please Grand patrons immensely. Mr. Baldwin will sing another new song, and with the new programme by the Grand orchestra will form one of the best offerings of the week. The Biograph production, "A Smile of A Child," will please the afternoon crowds especially as the story is all about a child. The innocent smile of a child has more influence than any other power in the world. It can change the cloudy into sunshine as will be seen in this Biograph subject. An ill-tempered Prince is met by a little child who is wandering through his grounds, and his entire nature is changed into one of excessive good nature. Later, while out on a lark, he meets for the first time a very pretty peasant woman, to whom he, by virtue of his rank, makes sinister advances. It happens that she is the mother of the same child and it enters in time to arouse the Prince to his better self with its sunny smile and saucy wink, which wink is really infectious of good nature.

Big Audiences at Bijou.

More big audiences and more big times were in evidence yesterday at the Bijou. It was a great bill that was presented and it was received with enthusiasm. Today's offering at the popular theatre is of great strength. Comedy films will bubble strongly and brightly, and it will be of the good, wholesome fun type, too. In addition to the big clown pictures and just the jolliest kind of a musical programme, in which Mr. Frank Banks will star with a tremendous song triumph (placed on the market the past Monday) will be presented. One of the films is called "The Feud," and it deals, as its name suggests, with a fascinating, thrilling subject. It takes the onlookers into the mountains of Kentucky, where the vendetta germ generally lurks, and it shows some intense scenes. The other great success is "His Friend's Wife." In this the beholders get a glimpse of picturesque France and of artist life in the Latin Quarter. The hero is a young American artist and the story is one very dramatic in nature.

SOUTHERN GOLF TOURNEY.

Bush, of New Orleans, Won in Qualifying Scores Yesterday.

Nashville, Tenn., June 7.—R. G. Bush, of the New Orleans team, won the gold medal for lowest qualifying score, breaking the record for such previous scores and E. W. Daley, of Nashville, won the silver medal for second place during the second day of the tenth annual tournament of the Southern Golf Association at the Nashville Golf and Country Club today. F. G. Byrd, of Atlanta, who won the championship last year, failed to qualify in that flight today. The list of eligibles for this championship was reduced to 16 today in two rounds of play.

Episcopal Conference Continues in Session—Campaign Against the Fly—Marriage in Raleigh. Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—The Wednesday morning and afternoon sessions of the Second St. Mary's Conference of the Episcopal clergy and prominent laity of North and South Carolina, was characterized by a number of strong addresses bearing on important phases of church work.

This forenoon there were addresses by Rev. J. F. Mallet, of Salisbury, on "An Open Door," or "Filling the Ranks of the Ministry," and by Rev. Llewellyn N. Caley, of Philadelphia, on "The Teacher; His Personality and Practice." In the early afternoon there was an address by Mr. Eugene M. Camp, of New York, on "The Churches' Missionary Tasks and Progress." Tonight there was an address on "Christian Education," by Rev. W. S. Claiborne. The conference is to continue through Friday.

Out in West Raleigh, the A. & M. College settlement, an organized movement for the elimination of the house fly in that section has been started with Mr. C. B. Williams, director of the North Carolina experiment station, as chairman. They have adopted the slogan: "Swat the Fly," and Dr. F. L. Stevens, of the A. & M. faculty, is chairman of the campaign committee.

At 11 o'clock this morning in the First Baptist church, there was the marriage of Miss Foy Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Livingston Johnson, of this city, and Rev. Calder T. Willingham, of Richmond, Va., son of Rev. R. J. Willingham, Richmond. The ceremony was by the father of the bride, assisted by the father of the bridegroom and was in the presence of a large audience. Among those here from a distance for the wedding were Editor Archibald Johnson, Thomasville, and Mrs. Johnson; Mrs. J. T. J. Battle, Greensboro; Mrs. W. J. Matthews, Scotland county, and Rev. H. H. McMillan, Scotland county.

Willie Jones, a negro, is held in jail here to await the result of possibly fatal wounds inflicted with a knife on Walter Perry, a row having occurred in St. Matthew's township, this county, yesterday.

Adjutant General R. L. Leinster, of the National Guard, made an order today for the disbanding of Company K, Third Infantry, Weldon, on account of the company having failed to meet the requirements at the time of the last inspection, made last February by Inspector General Thomas Stringfield, and Lieut. M. A. Well, of the 17th Infantry, United States Army. M. M. Drake was captain of the company just disbanded. There are ten applications on file from as many towns to be allowed to form a company to take the place of the Weldon company. Two of these are said to be desirably located to succeed Weldon. However, it is probable that there will be no action as to filling the vacancy until after the encampments this Summer.

State Senator W. S. Cobb says farming conditions this season in his section are proving very satisfactory. He is marketing 5,000 barrels of Irish potatoes this season at $5 per barrel. The ruling price last season was $2 per barrel.

LUMBER BRIDGE WINS.

Result of Rifle Range Practice—Text Book Commission.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—Company L Second Regiment, Lumber Bridge, won the highest score in the championship target practice just concluded here. The Dupont silver cup was to be awarded to the winner of the highest score at championship shoot, but there is a question as to the personnels of the three teams not having been the same as at the other shoots so it may result in the cup being retained by the Raleigh company. In the shoot just closed Lumber Bridge made a score of 1,169; next highest, Asheville, with 1,167, Raleigh 1,111. The winning score in the initial regimental contests was 1,090, by the Raleigh team.

The names of the Sub-Text Commission appointed by the State superintendent of public instruction and Governor Kitchin, were announced tonight by Supt. Joyner and there will be a joint meeting of the commission and sub-commission tomorrow to receive bids for the public school text book adoption and to take up the work that kept the sub-commission busy until August 3rd, when the adoption will be completed. The sub-committee consists of N. W. Walker, of the Department of Education, University of North Carolina; A. C. Reynolds, county superintendent of instruction, Buncombe county; E. T. Atkinson, county superintendent of public instruction of Wayne county; Z. V. Judd, county superintendent public instruction Wake county; R. J. Cochran, county superintendent public instruction, Mecklenburg county; N. C. Newbold, superintendent public schools of Washington, N. C.

CAROLINIANS AT CAPITAL.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, June 7.—Ernest Finley, of Alleghany county, is the wisest boy that has been to Washington in years. He was appointed page of the House by Representative Doughton, but after coming here and looking the land over he said to himself: "Nay Pauline, none of this glitter for me. Take me back to old Alleghaney, where the water is pure, the people honest and air wholesome." He remained here two days, resigned, took the train for home, and is now back in the sticks. Glenn McKay, a bright eyed, Mooresville lad, took his place and has been given a place in the House press gallery, where he will be looked after by such old-time Tar Heels as T. Pence. The boys up there are glad to have him.

Chairman Oscar W. Underwood is a mighty good fellow but he may not hear the cry of the Southern cotton manufacturers who would have him forget the cotton schedule until December or later. The wool people begged him to wait until Fall or Winter before revising Schedule K, but he could not hear them. It would not be fair to treat the cotton schedule differently from what he does the wool schedule. Therefore, the appeal of Mr. S. W. Cramer and Mr. R. M. Miller, of Charlotte, may not reach him. The next thing on the original programme, after wool, was cotton. If the Senate does not make haste and pass the Canadian reciprocity bill the cotton schedule will be revised by the House.

But the Senate is Republican and no Democratic tariff bill will get by that end of the Capitol. The cotton manufacturers may saw wood without fear.

The Canadian treaty bill will occupy the time of the Senate for two months. It will be so hot by that time that everybody will be ready to quit the tariff. H. E. C. BRYANT.

WHITEVILLE NEWS NOTES.

Deaths and Marriages in Columbus—Replanting Cotton—Other Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, June 7.—Mr. Robert E. Council, one of Columbus county's best and most respected citizens, died at his home near Bolton, June 3rd, at the age of 65 years. He was born in Robeson county and married Miss Julia Phimps, of that county. He is survived by his widow and nine children. The deceased was interred at Shiloh Methodist church.

Last week tuere were three marriages in the Broadway section of our county, and a number in other sections. Mr. R. M. Canady and Miss Missouri Hewett were married near Black Creek. Miss Evangie Jordan and Mr. A. A. Williams were married near Clarendon; and Mr. Garris Nobles and Miss Annie Fipps near Pleasant Hill.

Mr. John Britt, from the Lebanon section, has returned from the hospital at Florence, S. C., where he had an operation performed for appendicitis.

A newly married lady in Whiteville has been carried to the James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, to be treated for pellagra.

Miss Harriett L. Day, teacher of voice in the Meredith College, is the guest of Miss Annie Memory, in Whiteville. Miss Day is a Bostonian by birth and a highly cultured and brilliant lady. She has captured the hearts of all our people. Miss Day will lead the music in the Baptist church Sunday.

A number of farmers in the county are planting cotton since the rain, as they say they have time for a cotton crop to mature. Many fields set apart for tobacco are being planted in the fleecy staple. Tobacco men are already beginning to visit Fair Bluff to look over the ground and investigate the situation. They concede that the crop will be cut short this year, but are determined to get the lion's share of the business for Fair Bluff.

Washington, June 7.—The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Clinton L. Wright, to be postmaster at Norfolk, Va., to succeed Stephen B. Carney.

My back and kidneys were in bad shape and I had dull pains through my loins, together with headaches and a kidney weakness. In the morning when I got up, I was tired and languid and had but little strength with which to begin my day's work. After I had used part of the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, I improved and it was not long before my kidneys were restored to their proper working order."

(Statement given February 24, 1908.)

A Second Endorsement.

On December 27, 1910, Mrs. Marshburn said: "I value Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as ever and have no hesitation in re-endorsing them. They are certainly a good backache and kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MYRTLE BEACH.

Inauguration of Sunday Schedules—New Hotel Management.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Myrtle Beach, S. C., June 7.—The Sunday excursions to Myrtle Beach were begun on Sunday, May 28th, and will continue during the season. A week-day schedule has been inaugurated by the Coast Line, which will enable passengers to reach Myrtle Beach in time for a noon-day dinner. This is a most pleasing change for the people of the eastern part of this State who desire an outing at the seaside. For several years the Coast Line has been unable to render efficient service on account of having a light rail upon this branch of their road but they have recently re-laid the track with heavy rail, and excursion trains can now be run at a good rate of speed with absolute safety. This noon-day schedule will enable one to go from almost any part of Eastern South Carolina to Myrtle Beach, reaching there in time for a noon-day dinner.

The new hotel proprietors, Messrs. St. John & Son, managers of the Myrtle Beach Hotel, have recently refitted the hotel handsomely introducing many pleasing changes which will tend to render the hotel homelike in every respect. This should appeal to the better class of people who desire to take their families to a place of this character, and the managers assure the public that their patrons will have the very best of attention.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Thursday, June 8, 1911.

If you'd love the fairest of the fair to look upon, Behold now the charms of Winsome Worthwhile Wilmington.

"The rains descend on the just and the unjust" but it's because the unjust insist on living where they can share the luck that is bound to come the way of the just.

Baseball is a fresh air, healthful and interesting sport for players and sepetators. It sets the red blood going and livens up people. That is the reason it is great. A town that doesn't support baseball needs some ginger under it.

Says a contemporary: "Congressmen complain of the heat at Washington. Why, if we were to judge from the way some Congressmen talk, we would be led to infer that everything about Washington is "shady."

When Governor Woodrow Wilson was confronted with the statement that Governor Harmon is going to declare war on him he simply replied: "I'm not his enemy. I can't take any notice of that." That shows that Wilson has in him the elements of greatness.

By the way, the handy pistol never satisfactorily settled any difficulty in the world. In the solution of any kind of trouble, the use of a gun so enormously magnifies its seriousness that in many cases the trouble is changed from a temporal affair to one involving eternity itelf.

Jacksonville and Charleston are talking municipal piers and docks. Wilmington has made some progress along this line, and it must be clear to all practical people that this is the biggest question that calls for consideration, as a means of promoting the commercial interests of our port.

Advertising is a necessity of commercial enterprise and commerce. Cities have caught on to the idea and are making it a paying investment. The only question about it is how, when and where to advertise. It is a question for experts, or one to be studied by those who wish to make it a part of their assets.

We have heard of the corn club, the tomato club, and the canning club, and now the Greenville (S. C.), News tells us about the organization of the Greenville County Pig Club, for the purpose of encouraging farmers to produce their own meat. We are one of the original advocates of the club idea. There is nothing like the club to bring us to our senses.

The honors paid to Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore on Tuesday were of a most extraordinary nature. The Chief Executive of the Republic, a former head of the nation, many of the most prominent men of the country, without regard to creed, religion, or race, gathered to formally express their congratulations to the aged Catholic prince upon the fiftieth year of his priesthood and the 27th year of his elevation to the Primacy of the Church in America. It was not altogether reverence for religion that called for this remarkable exhibition of a country's good will, but it was the lofty character and great ability of Cardinal Gibbons as a man and priest that inspired the universal feelings of good will and rejoicing at his Golden Jubilee. Cardinal Gibbons is easily one of America's greatest and ablest men, and Wilmington shared sincerely in the honors paid to him, for he was once a resident of this city and is beloved by all who know him.

NAMING TOWNS.

When people go to naming towns they ought to be careful about it and select names that would become a city. Even the smallest crossroads villages should have the right sort of name, for there is no telling when they will become a great city and labor under the embarrassment of having had an alias that is hard to live down.

Now there is the pretentious city of Atlanta which started out in life as Marthasville, doubtless because some Georgian had sole jurisdiction at the crossroads and named it for his wife. What would Atlanta feel like if people were to go around throwing it up to her that her real name is Marthasville and that her present name was simply adopted to cover up her past? However, it was all right to change her name, for if the name of Marthasville had stuck and couldn't be lived down, everybody would now be thinking of that town as an old fashioned lady wearing a hoopskirt and corkscrew curls. On the contrary, Atlanta can now stick out her chest and parade around like she is named after some hobbleskirt girl.

The pretty little city of Hickory, N. C., came into existence as Hickory Tavern and the name stuck to her until she got on the map. Then the town didn't want people to think of it as some old tavern, so that part of the name was dropped. After Hickory lives down its old name its people can claim that it got its name from Old Hickory Jackson, who picked out the place and predicted that it would be a fine location for a future city. Then there are such towns in the Carolinas as Rocky Mount, High Point, Rock Hill, Frog Level and the likes, and it's no wonder that all these places, except Frog Level, are having trouble with their double-barrel names. By good luck, Rock Hill, High Point and Rocky Mount are growing cities, but poor Frog Level's name would down it in any country. At any rate, it would look like throwing money in the pond for boosters to be giving publicity to a place named after a lot of croakers. Speaking about the trouble some of these places are having with the practical and apparently meddlesome Postoffice Department, the Greenville (S. C.) News remarks:

"The postal department is incurring considerable resentment from Rock Hill, High Point, and other such two-word' towns, by combining the names to one word, and cutting down to a small letter the second initial. Towns, as well as individuals, seem to be somewhat touchous in the matter of names, and possibly a determined effort on the part of citizens of these places might bring about a more liberal policy on the part of the postal authorities."

This all illustrates the folly of picking out any old name for what might be a great city some day, and yet carelessness in this particular is still being indulged. The people of Smithville, at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, saw the point long ago, and now that old town with all its traditions about the pirates and "Money Island" is the ambitious municipality of Southport, which is soon to have a railroad and may become a great port some day. Southport is right on the Atlantic ocean and its people can watch the ocean steamers crossing the bar on their voyage to Wilmington, which is the world's fourth cotton exporting point, and which is soon going to be America's greatest fertilizer manufacturing center. Southport will come right along in the port business, and the time may come when the 28 miles of space between there and Wilmington will call for a consolidation into one of the greatest cities on the Atlantic.

This ought to be enough to make people quit giving towns all sorts of dinky names.

UNCLEAN CITIES.

We do not see why it is necessary to keep on preaching sanitation and cleanliness for cities, but it is not only necessary but important. The people of a city ought to recognize the value of living in a clean, healthful atmosphere, but there is astonishing disregard of the rules that would easily result in clean premises and streets. Speaking upon this subject, the Richmond Times-dispatch remarks:

"Dr. Charles William Eliot says that no American city of 100,000 inhabitants is anywhere near as clean as it might be. He is right. Dr. Eliot seems to ascribe this condition to municipal authorities, but the people are largely responsible. Our streets are littered up, because we Americans are accustomed to drop paper and refuse just wherever we please. Popular carelessness is at the root of the unsightliness of our cities. There is no effective remedy for the condition described by Dr. Eliot. Only long education can impress upon the people the importance of public cleanliness. Of late years there has been some improvement in the public attitude, but it will be years before we shall accomplish much in this direction. We do not litter our own yards. Why can we not, then, realize that the city streets are really a part of our own yards? They are."

People simply have to be educated up to the point of observing the rules for cleanliness and sanitation. After all that has been published in the newspapers, careless people walk right along their prettiest streets tearing the wrappers from papers and packages, and dropping them unconcernedly on the streets to litter up the town. The man who opens a letter tears it up and distributes it broadcast, and just about every person coming along the street contributes to the litter. The sweepings from stores, containing dirt and litter, continue to find their way to the gutter, and so it goes.

It is largely the result of carelessness that is prodigious, criminal and inexcusable. As we write this we see two trash cans on the street within six feet of each other, yet the gutter for twenty feet on either side is littered with banana peels and paper which could have easily been thrown in the receptacles right before the eyes of the careless individual who will not learn the clean way. However, we have seen one Wilmington man crumples up waste paper and throws it in the receptacles or else pulls out a match and burns it in the gutter.

A Wilmington gentleman who visited Berlin, Germany, says that city has the cleanest streets he ever saw and that all Berlin people are shocked at the idea of seeing people toss things on the streets. The Wilmington gentleman says he had finished reading a cablegram and was about to drop it on the street, when an elegantly dressed man hurried to him and bowing, requested the discarded cablegram, which he carried to the nearest trash receptacle and deposited as carefully as if he had been putting money in the bank.

If Wilmington people follow the example of the Berliners, it would make a great difference in the appearance of the streets. They ought to do it for their own sakes if not for the city's.

FAYETTEVILLE ILLUSTRATED.

The thrifty and attractive city of Fayetteville has a live Chamber of Commerce, and that body has an ever available asset in its secretary, Mr. Z. P. Smith, formerly editor of the Greensboro Daily News. Secretary Smith is a newspaper man of fine ability and Fayetteville cinched a good publicity man when it reached out and gained him as a useful and practical acquisition. Secretary Smith has scope to him, sees things, goes after them and does things.

Fayetteville is a city of splendid possibilities and it would take a book to tell about them, or attempt to show how her enterprising people are making good with them, but it has remained for Secretary Smith to condense the significant features of Fayetteville's advantages into an envelope booklet that shows off the city to great advantage. It is neatly printed and prettily illustrated, and its judicious circulation will prove a powerful factor in attracting attention to the splendid city of the Upper Cape Fear.

Fayetteville is already an industrial center of considerable importance, boasting of its water and electric power, five large cotton mills, two silk mills, city and urban trolley lines, banking facilities, and other potentialities in city making. They are numerous, but Secretary Smith has comprehensively grouped them, and as a piece of municipal advertising the Fayetteville booklet will be sure to prove a winner.

Of course, it's mighty hard to be good while watching others have all the fun, but in the long run fun costs more than it comes to while it pays to be good all the time.

Col. Bryan ought to come on in. "The water's fine." We all went "in" with him three times and bumped against the rocks, so he ought to recognize the rule that turn about is fair play. We lost everything but peerlessness and they can never take that away from us, but after being "all in, down and out" three times, there isn't any use to pretend that we dearly love to keep right on biting the dust. Our ideals are the same but our discretion is getting the upperhand of us.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Senator Bailey is accused of having been "Lorimer's ablest defender" last Winter and to have deserted him. The Texan never defended Lorimer, but he insisted that it would be wrong to condemn a man never connected by the evidence with the crime. Now that the evidence has been shown, Bailey changes his attitude and we congratulate him on showing that he is "an upright judge."—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The day is not far distant when 500,000 people will come to the mountains of western North Carolina every Summer. Good hotels and good roads will bring them to that beautiful scenery and glorious climate. The Asheville Citizen says a fine hotel is to be built near the summit of Mount Mitchell. Massachusetts parties have paid $240,000 for an 8,000-acre tract of spruce timber on and around the historic peak, and will construct a railroad and build a hotel and cut timber. The biggest and most permanent resource and asset of North Carolina is its climate.—Raleigh News and Observer.

A week from tonight the citizens of Asheville will meet at the Auditorium for the purpose of endorsing the successful efforts of the various city officials to enforce the prohibition law, and it is a meeting which every lover of law and order can afford to attend. Some recognition is due those who have labored long and earnestly to free Asheville from blind tigerism and its resultant evils, and no better channel for such endorsement can be found than that of public expression. A law is a law, and its enforcement is one of the first duties of citizenship For its non-enforcement we are ever ready to criticise those who are responsible, and we should be equally zealous in commending the officials and "laborers in the vineyard" when they enforce the law to the letter.—Asheville Citizen.

The decision of the Supreme Court saves the Sherman act. If that statute meant that, in this age of communication and mechanical advance in industry, every kind of combination were to be prohibited, it would merely interfere with business until it was inevitably repealed. As, however, restraint of trade had at the common law a perfectly settled implication of an effort toward monopoly, the Sherman act is left expressing the attitude of reasonable men today. The United States is not absurd enough to believe that any combination of two grocery firms or little country express companies should be illegal. It is merely fighting monopoly, and the decision of the Supreme Court, in making that distinction clear, is of service to business and to the whole community.—Collier's Weekly.

The development of its back country is, perhaps, the most important of the many problems with which Charleston is confronted. We have seen no more suggestive discussion of how progress may be made in its solution than is contained in the article by Mr. W. D. Garrison, printed on this page today. Mr. Garrison, the superintendent of the Clemson College Coast Experiment Station, located at Jedburg, a short distance above Summerville, is in no sense a theorist. He was born and raised on a farm in Anderson county, and in all that he says he speaks from personal knowledge and experience. He is urging others to do only what he has proved can be done, and done with profit to the doer and great benefit to the public. He demonstrates conclusively, it seems to us, that the advanced methods he advocates will pay, and pay handsomely.—Charleston News and Courier.

NOT BOUTELL'S SON.

Young Man Attempted Suicide in New York Y. M. C. A.

New York, June 7.—The young man who described himself as a son of former Congressman Boutell, of Chicago, after he had been prevented from committing suicide in the building of the Y. M. C. A., was today pronounced by former Congressman J. Frank Aldrich, of Chicago, to be an imposter.

After Magistrate Freschi had held the man for examination tomorrow he asked Mr. Aldrich to investigate. Mr. Aldrich, through a close friend of the Boutell family, communicated with Roger Sherman Boutell, a son of the former congressman in Washington. Mr. Boutell said that the would-be suicide was no relation, that he was doubtless the same man who tried to kill himself in New Orleans a few weeks ago, and who at that time said he was a son of former Congressman and present minister to Switzerland. Mr. Boutell said he did not know the man under arrest. In court today, however, the prisoner insisted that he was a son of the Chicago ex-Congressman.

NO SLAVERY TO WORK

Finds It Easy to Do Her Housework, After Taking Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, for Her Weakness.

Deskins, Va.—"I had serious female troubles, lasting 40 days at a time," writes Mars. Mary A. Vandyke. "I took medicine from two doctors, but it seemed to do no good. I was so weak I could hardly walk, so I wrote you for advice, and got a bottle of Cardui. In a few days I was better. Now I feel like a new woman. I am doing my work and praise your medicine every day. I advise all my friends to try Cardui, the best medicine for women on earth."

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness or irregularity, try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It helps nature to perform a cure in a natural, easy way.

Its ingredients are mild herbs having a gentle, tonic effect, on the female constitution.

It makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks fresh and rosy.

Many ladies have written to say that Cardui is worth its weight in gold. If you are a woman, try it.

Your druggist sells it, with full instructions for use.

STORM DAMAGE IN STATE.

Buildings Unroofed at Salisbury Yesterday—Big Property Loss.

Spencer, N. C., June 7.—A severe wind and electric storm which passed over North Carolina today, caused several thousand dollars damage in this section. The Vance Cotton Mills, Belk Harry Company, Salisbury Dry Goods Company, Salisbury Gas Plant, and other buildings, were unroofed.

Madison, Wis., June 7.—The Senate today by a vote of 16 to 3 adopted the Blaine substitute to the Husting joint resolution, calling on the United States Senate to investigate the election of United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, which, according to the report of a special investigating committee, was brought about by irregular means.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double, strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear beautiful complexion that it is sold by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

MAYOR SENDS OUT LETTER

Improvement of Front Street From Union Station to Castle Street Soon to Be Undertaken by the City.

Indicative of the purpose of the City Council to begin extensive street improvements in a short time, first improving Red Cross from Front to Fourth, and then Front street from the union station to the north side of Castle street, is a circular letter which will be issued today by Mayor Joseph D. Smith urging the abutting property owners on the streets mentioned to give their hearty co-operation by complying with the law requring them to pave the sidewalk in front of their property.

The letter has been prepared by Mayor Smith at the direction of the Council and will be mailed from the Department of Streets, Wharves and Public Improvements, as it pertains to a matter which comes under this head. There are a total of 125 property owners on Red Cross and Front streets from Fourth to Castle street, and all these will receive letters today briefly setting forth the policy of the new administration, calling attention to the contemplated improvements in the streets and quoting the law requiring abutting property owners to pave their sidewalks. The letter, though rather long, is given in full on account of the general interest in street improvements, as follows:

"Dear Sir:—The policy under the new form of government of the City of Wilmington is intended to be fair, progressive and active, and to have, at all times, an eye single to the enforcement of the law, the protection of the rights of individuals, the improvement of the city, and the uplift and upbuilding of the entire community. In order to carry out that policy it becomes necessary for citizenship to co-operate in behalf of the government and to hold up the hands of the administration in the enforcement of the law and the improvement of the town, and I desire, in this connection to say that it is my duty to call your attention to sections 16 and 17 of an Act to Allow the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, to Issue Bonds for Street Improvement, passed at the session of the General Asembly of 1907 and ratified on the 7th day of March, A. D. 1907, which are as follows:

"Section 16. 'And for the preservation and protection of the pavements and improvements herein provided for, the Commissioners of Streets' of said city shall have, and are hereby given power and authority in all cases where any of the public streets or alleys of said city, whereon gas, water and sewer pipes have been laid or are conveniently accessible, are being paved or are about to be paved, to require the owner or owners of any lots or parcels of land bordering on or abutting thereon, under the supervision of the city engineer, to make proper branch gas, water and sewer connections for such lots or parcels of land from said gas, water and sewer pipes to the edge of such lots or parcels of land upon like notice and terms and under the same regulations as are hereinafter provided for paving sidewalks; and upon failure of the owner or owners of such lots or parcels of land, to make such connections within the time required, said Commissioners of Streets may make such connections and charge the cost thereof against the said lots or parcels of land, in the same manner as herein provided in the case of sidewalks, and such cost so charged shall constitute a lien upon such lots or parcel of land to the same extent and to be enforced and collected in the same manner as the liens hereinafter provided with respect to the sidewalks in said city. Provided, further, that in all such cases as are herein mentioned, the Commissioners of Streets of said city may require any person, firm or corporation owning or using gas mains, gas pipes, water pipes and sewer pipes, or any other pipes whatever, or underground electric or other wires, in or under said streets, so being paved or about to be paved, to forthwith make all of their lateral connections in said streets at least to the edges thereof before the said streets are paved, so as not to interfere with the progress of the paving; and for failure for twenty day after notice of said requirement to comply with same, said person, firm or corporation, so in default, shall thereby forever thereafter forfeit the right to use said street for the purpose aforesaid, and the Board of Aldermen of said City, may, at its discretion, remove said gas mains, pipes and wires from said street.

"Section 17. 'Whenever any streets in said city shall have been graded, guttered and curbed, in whole or in part, including sidewalks, it shall be incumbent on the owner or owners of the land along said street or part thereof so improved, to pave, re-pave and repair, whenever in the opinion of the Commissioners of Streets it may be necessary, the sidewalk on their own side respectively, the full width across their respective fronts, with such material and in such manner as the Commissioner of Streets of said city shall direct. Whenever any street shall have been graded, guttered and curbed, the Commissioners of Streets of said city shall, through the City Clerk and Treasurer, notify the owner or owners of the land fronting or cornering thereon at once to pave, re-pave or repair, as may be required, the sidewalks thereof as hereinbefore provided, and should such owner or owners fail for fifteen days after such notice to comply therewith said Commissioners of Streets, unless it shall extend the time therefor, shall cause said sidewalks to be built, re-paved or repaired, and charge the cost thereof against such lots respectively, and cause the same to be entered by the City Clerk and Treasurer in a book to be kept for that purpose; and the said Clerk and Treasurer shall forthwith proceed to collect the same and account therefor in the same manner as for taxes of said city. The amounts of such charges shall be and constitute from the commencement of the work for which they ar echarged liens on the respective lots upon which they are charged, and if any of them are not paid on demand, so much of the lot upon which it is charged as may be sufficient to pay the same with interest and cost, or the whole of such lot, shall be advertised and sold by the City Clerk and Treasurer of said city for the payment of the same under the same rules and regulations and rights of redemption and in the same manner as prescribed by the charter of said city and general law for the sale of real estate for unpaid taxes; but said Commissioners of Streets may, in their discretion, divide any such charges in such manner that the same may be paid in three-quarter-annual installments, from and after the commencement of such work, with interest thereon, at six per cent. per annum from the date of such commencement, provided, however, that nothing in section fourteen (14) of this act shall conflict with the provisions of this section applicable to sidewalks.'

"This power now devolves upon the City Council.

"You will observe by the act that the city government has the power and authority to require each individual owner of property, when necessary, to pave, re-pave or repair the sidewalk in front of his or her holdings, and it is the intention and purpose to (and I might say that this administration will, in a short time), begin to pave Front street from the depot to the northern side of Castle street, and will require each owner of property to put down a uniform granolithic sidewalk from Front street depot (on both sides of Front street), to the northern side of Castle street, and this letter is issued for the purpoe of notifying you to conform to the requirements stipulated and set forth in the two sections above, which are now a part of the city charter. I send this notice in advance, because the guttering and curbing has not all been done, but as soon as the same is done, the City Clerk and Treasurer of said city will notify you under Section 17 of said act within what length of time to begin the work.

"The City of Wilmington is in position to do this work cheaper than it could be done by private contract, and if it is your desire that the city do the work, the city would be glad to do the same, and let you pay the actual cost of putting down the granolithic sidewalk in front of your property, and if you will apply to Mr. P. Q. Moore, Councilman in charge of the Streets Department of said city, and who has the authority to make contracts with you, and have same done according to the plans and specifications adopted, charge you the actual cost of the work and material furnished, and render you a bill showing same, and you can pay that amount to the City Clerk and Treasurer, when the bill is presented.

"The City Council desire to take you into their confidence, for this improvement is your improvement; you are as much interested in the welfare of the city as the Council, and we call upon you now to come forward and help enforce the law and comply with the terms of the statute. The Council is going to improve this town and if they do not do so, it will be because you resist the progress of the same.

"In the meantime, I am,

"Yours very truly,

"JOSEPH D. SMITH,

"Mayor of City of Wilmington."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Regular Monthly Meeting This Afternoon — New Industry.

The attention of members of the Chamber of Commerce, especially those who were recently interested in the work of the organization through their applications for membership, are asked not to forget that this afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the body will take place at 3:30 o'clock. At this meeting it is hoped to get all departments of the work under way and it is earnestly hoped that there will be a very large attendance.

In addition to the regular order of business, the Manufacturing and Business Enterprise Committee will report the result of their negotiations with Mr. Geo. A. Simpson relative to the establishment of a new enterprise here. The committee has gone into this matter very thoroughly and it is believed that the proposition made by Mr. Simpson can be carried to a successful conclusion with the right sort of co-operation from the business community. All members are asked to remember the hour, 3:30 o'clock, and be present promptly.

The Cooking Demonstrations.

For the first time this week the weather was favorable to the cooking demonstrations in the Woolvin Building, and a large and enthusiastic crowd watched the preparation of the delicious menu prepared by Mrs. Whitted. Especially interesting the preparation of the Cannelon of Beef; a method of utilizing the cheaper cuts of steak without sacrificing the flavor, something to be considered in this the day of "high cost of living." In addition to this, strawberry shortcake, and other delicacies were made and served, and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Whitted will give another demonstration this afternoon.

COURT ADJOURNS FOR TERM

Several Matters Were Disposed of at Yesterday's Session—Judge Peebles Sets Aside Verdict of Jury.

Having disposed of all the cases ready for trial at this term, Superior Court, which has been in session for the past week, practically adjourned yesterday shortly after noon, but will not adjourn sine die until 10 o'clock this morning. Judge R. B. Peebles, who presided, will leave this morning for his home at Jackson, where he will spend the remainder of the week. Court was in session this term just seven days, not convening until last Wednesday.

The trial of the case of Minerva Simmons against Wesley McMillan, et al., involving the ownership of a piece of land in the vicinity of Eighth and Nun streets, was resumed when court reconvened yesterday morning. The parties to the controversy are colored. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. Just before court adjourned Judge Peebles granted a motion of counsel for the defendants and ordered the verdict set aside on the ground that it was contrary to the weight of the evidence. The case will now be heard again. The plaintiff was represented by Kenan & Stacy, while ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and Herbert McClammy, Esq., appeared for the defendants.

Mrs. Hattie H. Longfellow was granted divorce from her husband, J. H. Longfellow, on Biblical grounds. Kenan & Stacy represented the plaintiff. Judgment in default was entered against H. D. Springer in two cases, one in favor of Merritt Elliot & Co., for $875.86, with interest from July 23rd, 1908, and the other in favor of Powell & Campbell for $485.40 with interest from July 9th, 1908, and the costs in both actions. In the case of Jane Norman against David T. Franklin the plaintiff was allowed 20 days to file amended complaint and defendant allowed 20 days thereafter to file amended answer. Paul L. Brown was not granted a divorce from his wife, Mary J. Brown. After hearing the evidence Judge Peebles ordered a mistrial, the evidence in his opinion being insufficient.

Judge Peebles sustained the demurrer of the defendants in the case of Mr. B. H. Stephens, the architect, against Mrs. Hicks and her husband, Mr. R. W. Hicks. The plaintiff will appeal to Supreme Court. He brought action in the Recorder's court for $350, alleged to be balance due for plans and specifications for a new apartment house erected by the defendants, who filed a demurrer, one of the main grounds being that an architect could not hold a lien against the property for plans and specifications. This contention was upheld by Judge Peebles. It is admittedly a close point and has never been decided by the Supreme Court in this State. Kenan & Stacy represent the plaintiff, while Rountree & Carr appear for the defendants.

Just before court adjourned Judge Peebles heard argument of counsel in the matter of a receiver of the jewelry business of Mr. H. W. Colwell. The business was formerly conducted by McCulloch & Colwell, then passed to the latter upon the death of the former a few months ago in accordance with an agreement at the time the copartnership was formed to the effect that in case of the death of either the business should go to the surviving member. Upon petition of the administrator of Mr. McCulloch's estate Joseph W. Little, Esq., Judge Peebles recently appointed J. A. McNorton, Esq., temporary receiver. The question yesterday was whether or not the receivership should be made permanent. It was decided that the receivership should be continued, the receiver to interfere as little as possible with the business of Mr. Colwell, and during the interim pending further hearing the receiver is directed to ascertain the amount of debts at the time of co-partnership, whether or not the deceased has property in Bladen county, etc., it being the opinion of the court that if the deceased had any real estate that this should be exhausted in the settlement of the claims against his estate before bothering the jewelry business. J. O. Carr, Esq., represented the administrator and Hon. John D. Bellamy appeared for Mr. Colwell.

"THE WALK-OVER MAN."

Doing a William Weston Stunt at Peterson & Rulf's Store.

The "Walking Walk-Over Man" window display is here. It will be remembered by many that this unique display was here before and how it attracted hundreds of people. It is conceded to be one of the cleverest advertising devices in the world. It has to be seen to be appreciated. By a mechanical device operated by an electrical motor, the small figure literally acts the trade mark of the International Walk-Over Shoe. That the shoe is International is evidenced by the fact that it is sold in all civilized countries and in every prominent city on the globe. The shipments are over one million dollars a month. Messrs. Peterson & Rulfs, local agents for this shoe, carry no less than 50 different styles in all the leathers from the new high toe and heel to the broad toe and flat heel.

It is the wearing qualities coupled with comfort and style that have made this one among the most popular shoes on the market. If one has never seen the little fellow do the "stunt," drop down to 202 North Front street and see how it works. Messrs. Peterson & Rulfs offer a prize, a pair of Walk-Over shoes, to the man or boy who guesses nearest the number of steps the little man makes in an hour and for the best paper of not over 200 words on the display as an advertising medium.

BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR

Adopted by the City Council Yesterday Afternoon—Practically the Same as Last Year—Other Matters.

The City Council in called session yesterday afternoon adopted the budget for the present fiscal year, the amount provided to run the city for this period being practically the same as expended last year, notwithstanding the fact that it has been arranged for a greatly enlarged and improved service in each of the departments, especially the health, police and street departments. The budget provides for an expenditure of $251,660, but from this should be deducted the portion allotted to the water and sewerage department, which is revenue producing, leaving the actual budget at $229,042, or about $2,000 more than the actual amount expended last year.

Analysis shows that while there have been some increases in salaries there has been an offset by the consolidation of offices and merging of the Commissions and the Board of Audit and Finance. The salaries, in the aggregate, amount to practically the same as last year. What increases that are provided are partly in the police force, looking to more efficient service, and partly in the street department, necessitated by the repair needed and partly by the increased expenditure in the health department in contemplation of very greatly improved sanitary conditions, besides provision has been made for several items which might come under the head of "specials," such as the purchase of a street car water sprinkler, etc.

Under the head of general expense account is provided, salaries: Councilmen, $9,500; clerk and treasurer, $2,100; tax collector, $1,800; attorney, $2,000; assistant attorney, $1,200; janitor, $780; special officer, $1,200; a total of $17,580 for salaries under this head; fuel, lights, ice, etc., $700; tax listing, $250; library, $1,700; repairs City Hall, $200; furniture and fixtures, $300; insurance City Hall and opera house, $1,000; stationery and incidentals, $1,000; a grand total of $22,730.

Police—Salaries, chief $1,800; two captains, $2,040; four sergeants, $3,577; 32 privates, $24,565; extra men, parades, elections, other occasions, $4,000, a total in salaries of $35,982; uniforms, $1,500; military, $600; horses, $500; keep of teams, $1,888; repairs, vehicles, harness, etc., $150; fuel, lights, etc. $300; incidentals, $500; a total for the department of $41,420.

Fire—Salaries, chief, $1,550; assistant chief, $1,000; 24 men, $16,370; three engineers, $2,760; three foremen, $1,680; six assistant foremen, $4,500; total salaries, $27,860; uniforms, $1,100; alarm system, $530; repairs, houses, $500; repairs, engines, harness, hose, etc., $5,000; keep of teams, $2,400; fuel, lights, ice, etc. $950; new equipment, $500; incidentals, $400; a total for the department of $35,240.

Street Cleaning and Repairs—Superintendent, $1,400; laborers, 40 at $9 a week and three at $10 a week, $20,181; ditching, $1,750; total salaries, $23,331; keep of 24 teams, $4,320; materials for street repairs, $2,000; new teams, $1,200; new carts, repairs, tools, etc., $600; street car water tank and service, $1,000; incidentals, $100; a total for this department of $32,551.

Water and Sewerage—Salaries, superintendent, $1,800; assistant superintendent, $1,200; meter inspector, $800; filter man, $650; engineer, $1,800; clerk, $624; firemen, $1,200; laborers, $3,300; a total for the salaries of $11,374; keep of teams, $400; repairs, building, $250; repairs machinery, $600; repairs, meters, $1,000; repairs, pipes, etc., $750; fuel light, etc., $7,500; insurance, $250; incidentals, $500; a total for the department of $22,624.

Street Lighting—124 arcs, at $61.50, $7,626; Tungstens, 105 at $24, $2000; 44 arches at $87,50, $3,850; 140 gas at $25, $3,500; extensions, $1,000; incidentals, $100, a total of $18,596.

Health Department—Salaries, superintendent of health, $2,000; assistant superintendent, $900; dairy inspector, $600; clerk, $300; inspectors, $7,935; hospital, $6,000; disinfectants, $1,500; contagious diseases, $200; incidentals, $100; a total for the department of $15,335.

Markets—Clerks and janitors, one at $50 a month, one at $10, $720; repairs, $500; fuel, lights, etc., $500; insurance, $350; incidentals, $100; grand total, $2,170.

Bond and interest account—Coupons general, $35,000; water and sewerage, $18,000; street improvements, $4,500; sinking fund, $3,500; a total of $61,000.

The permanent Street Department is to be charged with half the city attorney's salary, as most of his work will be there for the next 12 months. The engineer's salary and also the salary of the city stenographer will be charged with the public street work. As noted, the salary of the superintendent of health was fixed at $2,000 a year and he is to be given an assistant at $900 a year. The superintendent, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, will name his own assistant and it is likely that he will elect some young physician who has just been admitted to practice, and deserves the experience such a place would give him.

It seems to have been the idea of the Council in arranging the budget not to be too economical or parsimonious in providing the necessities of the city, but rather the main object is to accomplish results. The purpose of the Council seems to be to better conditions in Wilmington, rather than to let the money lay idle while there are so many improvements to be made. In this the Councilmen will doubtless receive the thanks of the people.

Dr. Nesbitt, the new superintendent of health, who takes charge of the office this morning and will give his entire time to the work, was before the Council yesterday afternoon an set forth at some length his tentative plan for the conduct of the health department. He will have general charge of the health department, will make bacteriologal tests, trace the source of all diseases, etc. He arranged a plan by which all earth closets will be treated with chemicals for the purpose of killing the flies, which spread diseases. Dr. Nesbitt will be allowed to select his own assitants and will begin work with 10 inspectors who will serve for the next few weeks, while he is getting the department running smoothly under the order of things. The present officers will probably be retained for the present. Dr. Nesbitt has in contemplation an arrangement by which the scavenger work will be done directly by the city or by contract with the city. Under the plan the cost to owners of surface closets should be no greater than at present and there would be more cleanings and better inspections. This is a matter that will most likely be taken up and carefully considered within the next few days. The election of Dr. Nesbitt as superintendent of health seems to have given most general satisfaction; all over the city yesterday, among all classes of people, favorable comment was heard, and all believe that under his direction there will be such a change in sanitary conditions that the health of the community will be greatly improved.

While no action was taken yesterday, it seems to be the sense of the Council that in view of the heavy expenses in the police departments, in order to get the city in better condition, it would be necessary to postpone temporarily the appropriation of an amount for advertising the city.

The Council adopted an ordinance prohibiting the use of the sidewalks in any part of the city for the display of goods, wares, etc. They did not like to take such action, but it is understood that the members felt that it was not right to prohibit some from using the sidewalks while others were allowed this privilege.

Dr. Thos. B. Carroll was re-elected city meat and dairy inspector at the same salary, $600 a year.

The Council was in session for two hours and a half, adjourning at 6:30 o'clock until the time for the regular meeting, next Tuesday afternoon.

HIGH AND HEAVIER RAIL.

Will Be Put Down by Tidewater Power Co. on Red Cross Street.

The Tidewater Power Company will put a force of hands to work this morning tearing up the track on Red Cross streets, from Front to Fourth streets, as the rails now used on that portion of the line are to be supplanted by new 72-pound rail, which are expected to arrive today. The new rails are higher and heavier than the rails used at present on Red Cross street. This is the same weight rail that is sued on Front street. The change to the heavier rail is made at this time on account of the fact that within a short time now the city will begin the work of improving Red Cross street for the three blocks mentioned.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

Every person afflicted with an old sore realizes, sooner or later, that the ulcer exists because of bad blood; the character and condition of the place depending on the nature of the blood infection. Virulent impurities in the circulation produce angry, discharging ulcers, while milder, inert germs are usually manifested in the form of indolent sores or dry, scabby places. External treatment can never cure an internal trouble, therefore no one should depend upon salves, washes, lotions, etc., alone to cure a chronic sore. It is necessary to remove the cause before the place can heal. S. S. S. heals Old Sores by going down into the circulation and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. In addition to purifying the blood S. S. S. enriches this vital fluid so that the irritated flesh around an old sore is naturally and thoroughly stimulated, and a permanent cure results, because every morbid influence has been removed. S. S. S. is the best of all blood purifiers and therefore a natural remedy for old sores. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

McClure, officiating. There were present only a few friends of the couple. It was a rather romantic affair, and the announcement of the marriage will come as a surprise to the friends of the couple. It was a case of love at first sight. They have known each other only two or three weeks, having met in this city. The groom has lived in Wilmington for some time and has a wide circle of friends here. The bride came here a short time ago from Jonesboro, her home, and is an attractive and charming young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Hazlett will make their home in Wilmington.

SCHOOL GARDEN PRIZES OF SOROSIS ARE AWARDED.

The committee appointed as judges to award prizes in the Sorosis School Garden contest had considerable difficulty in deciding who had won them, since many of the plats were good and deserved recognition; and in consideration of the extremely dry Spring, a late beginning and the many disadvantages of a first season, the committee deemed it unwise to award a first prize this season, but felt, however, that those who had complied with the rules governing the garden should receive all possible encouragement, and therefore the following awards have been made for faithfulness, neatness and results: Eldridge Plowden, $1; Henry Marshburn, $1; Abe Goldstein, $1; Francis McKoy, $1; Robert Snakenburg, $1; Courtland McEachern, $1; Eugene Cellar, $1; while Gray Hicks deserves special credit for beautiful plats recently developed.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

One of the prettiest of the several June weddings was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freeman Yopp, No. 212 Saint James Square, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their attractive and popular daughter, Miss Katie May Yopp, became the bride of Mr. Leo Valvin Lacy, Rev. Father C Dennen, rector of St. Thomas' Catholic Church, performing the impressive ceremony. There were many friends of the couple present for the event.

The Yopp home had been most beautifully decorated. To the strains of Lohegrin's Bridal Chorus skillfully rendered by Mrs. W. T. Mercer, the bridal party entered the parlor, where the ceremony took place at a beautiful improvised altar, most attractively decorated with palms and ferns. The maid of honor, Mrs. Fred David, of Bennettsville, S. C., wore pink messaline with pink carnations; the maid of honor, Miss Annie Lacy, of Raleigh, sister of the groom, was attired in pink marquisette with pink carnations, while the bride, who entered upon the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, wore a traveling suit of tan and carried carnations. The groom was accompanied by his brother, Mr. W. J. Lacy, who acted as best man. During the ceremony, Traumerer was played and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was rendered as the recessional. Following the ceremony and after the felicitations and best wishes of those present had been extended the happy couple, refreshments were served. Miss Ada Ellsworth Yopp presided at the punch bowl, and Misses Mamie Yopp and Emma Danriely served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacy left on the evening train for a trip to Philadelphia and other points in the North. Among the out-of-town guests here for the event were: Mrs. H. C. Lacy and Miss Annie C. Lacy, of Raleigh, mother and sister, respectively, of the groom; Mr. E. V. Richards, of Bennettsville, S. C.; Mrs. Fred David, of Bennettsville; Misses Margaret and Louise Richards, of Bennettsville.

A reception was tendered the bridal party Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 10 o'clock and it was a most delightful event. The bride and groom are very popular with a wide circle of friends in this city. Their popularity was attested by the large number of beautiful and costly wedding presents received.

Mid-Week Dance at Lumina.

The first of the popular souvenir dances will be given at Lumina tonight, for the season of 1911. Very pretty souvenirs have been selected for the occasion, and it is anticipated that a very large crowd will go to the beach for this event. The souvenir dances have always been very popular with Wilmingtonians, and many have been looking forward when they would again have the opportunity of enjoying them. Other special favor dances have been planned and will be given throughout the month.

NAVIGATION AND PILOTAGE

Official Report of the Proceedings of Regular Monthly Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon—Report of Committee.

Wilmington, N. C., June 7, 1911.

The Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage met in regular monthly session today at the office of the chairman, Mr. James Sprunt, who presided, there being present also Commissioners H. G. Smallbones, Richard Dosher and William St. George, and Clerk L. Brown McKoy.

Reading of the minutes of the last monthly meeting was dispensed with, they having been published in the newspapers at the time and read by the Commissioners.

The committee of pilots appointed to make bar soundings for the month of May, reported as follows:

"We, the undersigned, appointed by your Honorable Board to sound the Cape Fear bar, for the month of May, 1911, do hereby respectfully report that we have made the soundings and find the same to be as follows:

From the sea buoy to buoy No 1, least depth 31 feet, 6 inches, greatest depth 33 feet.

From buoy No. 1 to buoy No. 3, least depth 33 feet; greatest depth 35 feet.

From buoy No. 3 to buoy No. 2, least depth 35 feet; greatest depth 38 feet six inches.

From buoy No. 2 to buoy No. 4, least depth 35 feet; greatest depth 36 feet.

From buoy No. 4 to buoy No. 4 1-2, least depth 36 feet; greatest depth 42 feet.

From buoy No. 6 to buoy No. 7, least depth 33 feet; greatest depth 36 feet.

From buoy No. 7 to Southport, least depth 28 feet; greatest depth 50 feet.

All soundings taken at mean high water; rise of tide 3 1-2 to 4 feet."

(Signed) M. T. Craig, J. W. Craig, E. H. Adkins, J. W. Mintz.

Pilots J. A. Williams and H. C. Corlette, also appointed on the soundings committee for May, failed to sign the report. Pilot Corlette wrote at length to the Board, asking to be excused, on the ground that he is regularly employed as pilot on the fishing boat "Compton", and that it would be a hardship both to him and to the "Compton" for him to leave that boat in order to serve with the soundings committee. The Board instructed the clerk to inform Pilot Corlette that he was excused for not serving in the case at point, but that in future when he was appointed on such committees he would be permitted to make individual soundings of the bar and river, while on the fishing boat "Compton", and, with that knowledge, that he might sign the regular soundings reports.

The clerk was instructed to request Pilot J. A. Williams to show cause why he should not be fined for failure to serve on the May soundings committee.

A communication was received from Pilot M. T. Craig, reporting the grounding of the British steamship "Kildale" while in his charge, on the 13th of May, just after passing buoy No. 7, the ship remaining aground about three and a half hours. The pilot further stated that the ship was drawing 24 feet, three inches, and that at the time of the grounding the range lights were in line. This report accentuates the necessity and importance of regular soundings by the committees of pilots appointed by the Board.

Upon motion of Commissioner Smallbones, seconded by Commissioner St. George, the compensation of the clerk was fixed at $600 for the year beginning April 15, 1911, provided the resources of the Board will admit of it; otherwise to be made $500 for the year, at the discretion of the chairman.

In response to an enquiry from Pilot Pepper, the Board ruled that all cruising would have to be made within the limits already prescribed.

Commissioner St. George enquired about the rules governing the appointment of apprentices, in view of the increasing age of the licensed pilots, in order that provision might be made for the future. Reference was made to the Act of the Assembly relating to the Board, and it was shown that no apprentices can be enrolled until the number of licensed pilots has been reduced to twenty. There are now 27 licensed pilots.

The chairman reported that the harbor master had agreed to the new allotment of fees, which was acted upon at the last meeting of the Board.

L. BROWN McKOY, Clerk.

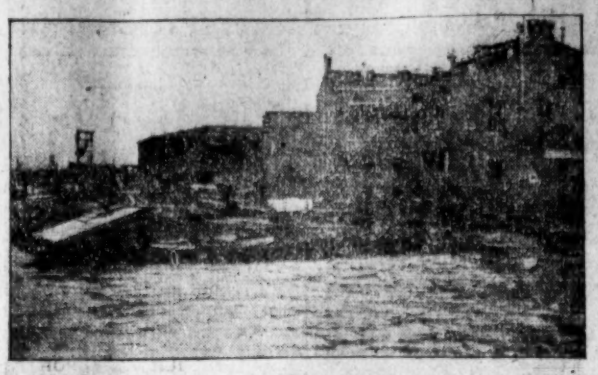
PRINCESS STREET DOCK



Above is shown from a photograph a daily scene at Princess street dock, upon which the city recently spent several hundred dollars in improvements to be used as a wharf for the Wilmington Fire Department, and which has never served for a moment the purposes for which it was built. Under the proposition now before the city council, the unsightly appearance of the dock now presented, which will be immediately a part of the river front for Wilmington's magnificent new Custom House, would be immensely improved and would at once be one of the show places for a "City Beautiful" and be a great convenience not only for the people of Wilmington but for the thousands of visitors who come to Wilmington during the heated period each year. It would seem very poor public policy for the United States Government to be spending thousands of dollars annually toward the building of a "Thirty-Foot Channel" if this is the class of commerce that is to be attracted to one of the principal docks of the port to the exclusion of the use of such a dock for the public convenience. Under the proposition submitted to the city council, the wharf is to be kept in the best of repair, which can be said for few, if any, of the other docks of the city, and it is to be kept open and free at all times for the use of the Wilmington Fire Department. In close proximity to the terminals of the Tidewater Power Co., and at the foot of a street leading immediately by the site of the proposed new Custom House and Grounds, it could serve no better purpose than a point of embarkation and landing for the thousands of excursionists who come to Wilmington each year and are at once a source of pleasure and profit to the pubic at large.

OUTING OF ST. ANDREWS.

Members of Sunday School Spent the Day Pleasantly at Lumina.

The Sunday school of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church had its annual outing at Lumina, Wrightsville Beach yesterday through the courtesy of the Tidewater Power Co. It was the largest excursion the school has ever had to the beach and the day was delightfully spent by all, not a single incident occurring to mar the pleasure of any member of the party. In addition to the three hundred children of the school, the outing was participated in by the beloved pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, the superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. D. L. Latta, and other officers and teachers. The party went down on special suburban cars at 10 o'clock and returned late in the afternoon.

Over-Worked Girls

Read What This Girl Says:

Appleton, Wis.—"I take pleasure in writing you an account of my sickness. I told a friend of mine how I felt and she said I had female trouble and advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she had taken it herself for the same trouble with wonderful results. I had been sickly for two years and overworked myself, and had such bad feelings every month that I could hardly walk for pain. I was very nervous and easily tired out and could not sleep nights. I had dizzy spells, and pimples came on my face. But I have taken your Vegetable Compound and I am entirely cured. I think it is the best medicine in existence."—Miss Cecilia M. Bauer, 1161 Lawrence St., Appleton, Wis.

THIS GIRL SAYS IT IS WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND:

Chicago, Ill.—"Your Compound cured all my troubles and I am feeling strong and happy and able to work now. Wherever I go I shall praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I think it is woman's best friend. I have told all my friends the good it has done me."—Miss Maggie Isbauer, 2418 So. Whipple Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Lorimor, Iowa.—"I had a heavy cold in the spring and got all run down and was irregular. I had no strength and had bearing down pains in my sides and back, and was very nervous and excitable. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am all right again, and stronger than before."—Miss I. E. Williams, Lorimor, Iowa.

Is it not reasonable to suppose that a medicine that did so much for these girls will benefit any other girl who is suffering with the same troubles?

Does it not seem the only sensible thing to give such a medicine at least a trial? You may be sure that it can do you no harm; and there is lots of proof that it will do you much good.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

COTTON PRICES MOVE UPWARD

Operations on New York Exchange Send Prices to New High Ground—Crop News Still Disturbing Factor—Weak Tone at the Close.

New York, June 7.—A further advance in the cotton market during today's early trading sent new crop months into new high ground for the movement, but old crop liquidation checked the advances and prices turned weak, after midday, with the close easy at a net decline of 56@25 points.

The opening was steady, at a decline of 1@4 points on the near months and were influenced by lower cables than looked for, but from one to two points higher on later positions, which reflected a renewal of yesterday's buying movement and the failure of the weather map to show any precipitation in the belt, except at 2 or 3 points along the coast. Futures showed some irregularity, following, but the western belt forecast calling for continued clear and warm weather tonight and tomorrow, and reports of very high temperatures in the southwest, inspired a renewal of the upward movement during the late forenoon, with October contracts selling as high as 13.66, and with new crop months generally showing net gains of some 13 to 14 points. Old crop positions failed to respond to the strength of the later deliveries, July holding around the closing figures of Tuesday, while August sold only 3 to 4 points net higher, and as soon as the flurry of new crop shorts had subsided the general market turned weak, with the near positions leading the decline under scattered selling, possibly against shipments here for delivery and heavy liquidation or realizing, much of which was attributed to New Orleans leaders. July contracts broke to 15.20, or 22 points below the closing figures of yesterday, and August sold off to a net loss of 14 points.

Last prices were practically the lowest point, with June showing the maximum loss.

There was no change in the late weather news to explain the weaker turn in the market, and while some authorities claimed that the showers recently in the eastern belt had been sufficient to relieve the drought situation, there still seemed to be more or less general anxiety as to the outlook in the southwest, and the decline was most generally attributed to liquidation of the old crop longs.

Receipts, 2,428 bales today, against 5,679 last week, and 5,305 last year. For the week, 22,000 bales, against 27,724 last week, and 41,701 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 718 bales, against 3,734 last year, and at Houston, 135 bales, against 1,365 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet. Middling uplands, 15.95; middling gulf, 16.20; Mobile, quiet; middling, 15¼; no sales.

SUDDEN ADVANCE IN STOCKS

Spirited Buying Movement After Listless Day of Trading—Hint of Plans of Great Importance by Hill Lines Are Factors—Range, Narrow.

New York, June 7.—A spirited buying movement toward the close of the day of listless trading in the Stock Exchange caused a sudden advance in prices to a point well above yesterday's close. During most of the day the market showed the effect of the depression which set in early in the week, and stocks moved slowly within a narrow range.

There was a gradual increase in strength however, and toward the end of the day trading was the liveliest of the week. The movement appeared to have no definite development as a basis, and opinion was divided as to whether it indicated a stampede on the part of the short interest or a resumption of bullish operations, following the completion of profit-taking. It was generally believed, however, that short covering was at least a considerable factor as the commitments of the bear party have been increased largely during the week, without resulting in a corresponding increase in the supply of stock. Attempts to cover in every case have resulted in a rise in prices.

The strength of the Hill stocks which led the market throughout the session, was so pronounced as to attract much attention. These stocks rose to new high prices for the year, following their recent series of advances. Great Northern, preferred, gained more than three points and Northern Pacific two. The movement gave rise to reports that plans of great importance were under consideration by the management of these roads, but no definite and authoritative statement was forthcoming. The Erie issues shared the leadership of the market with the Hill stocks, showing substantial gains throughout the day. U. S. Steel showed the effect of persistent pressure, although it more than recovered its loss in the final rally. Reports of possible action by the government against the United States Steel Corporation, and some uncertainty as to what will be the outcome of the Congressional investigation which was resumed today, affected the stock adversely. Trading in bonds, which has been relatively more active than in stocks, this week, was somewhat smaller than yesterday, although the total was well over $4,000,000. Ease of money rates, which has stimulated the demand for bonds, continues, although the market has recently been slightly firmer.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $4,140,000. United States bonds were unchanged, on call. Total sales for the day, 463,500 shares.

Unexpected Guests

The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

She had it lit in a moment, and her guests hardly were seated on the porch before a hearty hot meal was ready for the table—sausages and eggs and long rashers of streaky bacon, and rolls just crisped in the oven and fresh coffee—and the hostess herself as cool and neat as if she had not been near the kitchen.

She never could have managed it with an old-fashioned range. The New Perfection is the quickest, most convenient and best cooker on the market.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

BETTER STENOGRAPHIC SERVICE.

Did you ever notice that your stenographer does better work early in the day than she does toward night?

This is probably the reason: At the tip of each finger, close to the surface, is a sensitive nerve terminal.

Now, the constant pounding that is necessary to get action from the stiff, heavy keys of the ordinary typewriter soon tires her out. You can overcome this daily "three o'clock fatigue" by taking advantage of

MONARCH LIGHT TOUCH

Compare the Monarch with any other typewriter and note the difference.

TURPOILINE

CHEAPER THAN TURPENTINE

It is an odorless mineral product, which possesses great solvent power for paints and varnishes, has the requisite high flash for working and the clean evaporation which leaves the coating in perfect condition.

TURPOILINE makes a free flowing varnish, free from bloom. It flat colors better than turpentine.

TURPOILINE is thorough uniform; you can be assured of receiving the same product all the time.

TURPOILINE costs less and works well.

TURPOILINE is the most satisfactory product on the market for the paint and varnish man.

Try TURPOILINE. One thorough trial will convince you.

ing to some places a ruined aspect.

The water mains of the city were not injured and the light and power company suffered little inconvenience in operations. Some damage was done to street car tracks, but not enough to interfere with traffic, except on one line. The projection of the front wall of the Belem prison was thrown into the street. No great damage was done.

Two of the capital's old churches and the National palace show effects of the shock. Long cracks appeared in all of them. In the palace, a keystone in one of the arches was thrown almost out. The two churches are Santo Domingo and LaProfesa, the latter in San Francisco street.

Three schools sustained considerable damage but in none was there loss of life. One of the schools was the Liceo Guadalupano, a fashionable boarding school for girls.

That part of the building which collapsed was far removed from the dormitory. The frightened children and their instructors fled into the street, clad only in night clothes. At Masarones College, the most famous Jesuit institution in the Republic, a long wall and roof extending along an enclosed field, collapsed. The third school building damaged was the government normal school.

MAN SHOT BY TWO GIRLS.

Sensational Affairs in Which Wealthy Hotel Owner Was Victim.

New York, June 7.—W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy owner of the Hotel Ansonia, on upper Broadway, was shot three times tonight in an apartment occupied by two young women in West 80th street. It is charged, and the police say admitted, by the accused, that Ethel Conrad, an artist, 19 years old, and Lillian Graham, an actress, 22 years old, both had a hand in the shooting.

Mr. Stokes was found lying at the top of the four floor landing near the door of the young women's apartment when a policeman was called in. He was bleeding profusely from bullet wounds in the right thigh and leg and calf of the left leg. He clutched a revolver in one hand. The wounded man was removed to a hospital and both girls were arrested. They turned over to the police a revolver and the shells of three discharged cartridges.

According to Mr. Stokes' story, as told through his attorney, he had gone to the young women's room to run down a report that they had some letters he had written and to his "surprise they demanded $25,000 for the return of the letters."

The Graham woman had a pistol, the allegation ran, and "made threats to kill him."

Three shots were fired, the story told by the attorney continues, one of which went wild and Stokes, although wounded, grappled with the Graham woman. Then she shouted: "Ethel, you get your gun and kill him."

Miss Canrad fired the bullet taking effect in the calf of the man's leg. Stokes held the Graham woman in front of him as a shield so that her room mate dared not fire any more, but she shouted "murder," whereupon three Japanese servants from another apartment rushed in and jumped upon Stokes.

According to the Graham woman's story, told at the police station, she had lived at the Ansonia for five years and during a recent year she spent abroad had corresponded with Stokes. "The letters were of no importance," she said, "but Mr. Stokes had heard that Miss Conrad was in possession of them and he called tonight to demand them. Notwithstanding that she had told him that she did not have them, he turned on me and grabbed me by the throat and started to choke me."

The revolver in Stokes' hand was accounted for by his attorney with the explanation that he had taken it from the Graham woman.

The Japanese servants, who according to the attorney, intervened, were held as witnesses while a charge of felonious assault was lodged against the two girls.

At Roosevelt hospital it was said tonight that Mr. Stokes' wounds were serious, but not dangerous.

Mr. Stokes, who is 55 years old, is one of the largest owners of real estate in New York. He is one of the best known horse men in the country and owns a fine breeding farm at Lexington, Ky. On February 11th, last he was married to Miss Helen Elwood, of Denver, Colo.

Miss Graham has lately appeared in vaudeville while Miss Conrad has been drawing pictures and writing articles for a well known fashion magazine. At the police station Miss Conrad became hysterical when it occurred to her that a brother from her home in New Orleans was expected here tonight and she wailed "What will he say to this?" She was compelled to fire in self defense, she told the police matron tonight, so the latter said.

Washington, June 7.—Rear Admiral Edward D. Robie, retired, died at his home here today. He was born in Florida and served in the navy during the Civil War. He was a member of the old engineer corps with the rank of chief engineer.

Washington, June 7.—Captain J. P. Parker, who has been detached as captain of the Norfolk Navy Yard, today was ordered to command the battleship Nebraska.

A BUSINESS SUGGESTION.—

Discard the old Pocket Book with its stuffing of worn receipts. Every time you open it there is danger of losing cash, valuable papers, or making incorrect change.

Make a rule to deposit all your cash and carry one of the neat pocket check books given away at this bank. Then pay all accounts and expenses by check. We will render statements and return your checks monthly.

Get in line with business systems. You will save money and establish credit.

the picturesque Pazo de La Reforma, where a triumphant procession to the national palace began. Several hundred horsemen in broad hats and canvas suits, each with one, two or three belts of Mauser cartridges strapped on him, followed.

Many thousands of persons along the way, notwithstanding they had been holding their places of vantage for several hours, were in the best of humor.

Madero sat and stood alternately, but always bowing and waiving his hat in response to the "Vivas" that never ended.

At the head of Avenida Juarez, the parade swung to the left and instead of following the direct route to the palace, made its way between grand stands that were jammed with shouting men and gaily clad women.

It was late in the afternoon when the crowd began to melt away, their departure hastened by a light fall of rain. All the streets through which the parade passed were gorgeous in bunting and flags of all nations.

Showers of confetti and myriads of streamers of paper tape descended on the marchers from balconies and upper windows, while all along the route bunches of flowers were tossed into the Madero carriage. Mrs. Madero acknowledged the tributes with smiles and bows.

ELKIN & ALLEGHANY.

John A. Mills Becomes President—New Printing Concern.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—President Jno. A. Mills, of the Raleigh & Southport Railroad, authorizes the announcement that at a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Elkin & Alleghany Railway Co., just held, Jno. A. Mills was elected president and general manager; H. G. Cahtham, vice president, and Alex Chatham, secretary and treasurer. This is in connection with the deal that was recently approved by the Council of State for the enlistment of northern capital in the early completion of the road, twelve miles of which has been graded by State convicts for stock in the road. President Mills says the work will be pushed as fast as possible, that contracts for cross-ties are being let and that the laying of rail will begin very soon.

It is learned that The Thompson Printing Co., which was chartered yesterday with J. W. Bailey, A. A. Thompson, Joseph C. Brown and others as incorporators, and with $5,000 paid in capital, has for a special purpose, the pressing of the adoption of a number of text books for the North Carolina public schools by the Text Book Commission that begins its work of hearing proposals and examination of books offered tomorrow. A prominent member of the company said today in reply to inquiry that while he could not specify the particular books they will offer for adoption, he would say that they would offer about as many as any other bidder.

VIRGINIA FEDERATIONISTS.

Decline to Endorse State-Wide Prohibition—Annual Meeting.

Richmond, Va., June 7.—The Virginia Federation of Labor, in its 16th annual convention here today, practically tabled all matters pertaining to prohibition, passing by a resolution that it go on record as opposing any legislation for State-wide prohibition or against local option, and incidentally waste-basketing a communication from the State Anti-Saloon League. A resolution that the State furnish public school children with school books free of cost was adopted.

Affiliation of the Federation with the Farmers' Co-Operative and Co-Educational Union and with the Equal Suffrage League was formally effected today.

The convention tonight is enjoying the annual banquet of the Federation as guests of the local unionists. Officers will be elected tomorrow.

OVERWORKING CANNED SPEECH.

Attack on Custom of Misusing Congressional Record.

Washington, June 7.—The insertion of the word "applause" in a speech published in the Congressional Record, after the sentence "Jesus was born in a manger; John the Baptist fed on locusts and wild honey," brought about a few moments of earnest discussion in the House of Representatives today.

Minority Leader Mann objected to what he termed the abuse of the "proprieties of the house" inserting the word "applause," "tumulutuous applause" and the like in printed speeches.

"I did not think this sentence was so new to members of this House," said Mr. Mann, "that it would actually be greeted with applause."

Washington, June 7.—Dr. Austin B. Chamberlain, of Galveston, Texas, secretary general of the Supreme Council for the Southern jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite, died here tonight of apoplexy.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c. at R. R. FIGHT WITH OPIUM SMUGGLERS.

Several Chinamen Severely Beaten by New York Officers.

New York, June 7.—In seizing more than $1,000 worth of contraband opium today three customs inspectors and three detectives battled with 14 members of the Chinese crew of the steamer Roseric at a Brooklyn wharf and finally arrested three Orientals.

On secret information, the customs men searched the Roseric, which was getting ready to sail today on its regular trip to Shanghai, and found ten cans of opium hidden in the bunks of members of the crew. The captain refused to tell what Chinamen occupied those bunks and when the officer started to take the drug the 14 members of the crew objected.

The customs men were driven to the main deck and from there to the dock by the Chinamen, who they say were armed with long knives.

The customs men called in the police and a concerted attack was made on the crew below decks with the result that half a dozen of the celestials were severely beaten and three arrested. The opium was captured and the prisoners held by a United States commissioner for examination on a charge of smuggling opium.

OUR COTTON SEED INDUSTRY.

President Taft Will Speak on It Tonight.

Washington, June 7.—In his speech to the National Cotton Seed Crushers' Association in New York tomorrow night, President Taft intends to outline the effect that reciprocity with Canada would have upon the cotton industry and upon the South generally. He will make the address at the request of several Southern senators and it may prove an amplification of the speech he made at Chicago last Saturday. The President will leave for New York early tomorrow.

WAR SHIPS UNDER ORDERS.

Revolution in Nicaragua Breaks Aut Afresh.

Washington, June 7.—In view of the rumored threatened revolutionary disturbances in Nicaragua, the gunboat Marietta has been ordered from Guantanamo, Cuba, to Bluefields, Nicaragua. The warship will undertake a tour of observation to protect American interests if necessary. The gunboat Yorktown is already cruising in Central American waters in an effort to find any possible traces of a revolution in that quarter.

THE STATE BUILDING.

Atlanta Man Chosen as Architect With Raleigh Associate.

Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—The State Building Commission today selected as architects for the State Building to be erected at a cost of $200,000, P. Thornton Marye, of Atlanta, and Frank B. Simpson, of Raleigh, who submitted a joint plan. There were seven figuring in the competition for position as architects. The building is to be five stories high, of reenforced concrete and steel.

this line is practical that we should start with the Federal Steel Company."

Mr. Gary declared that in all the negotiations preceding the organization of the United States Steel Corporation he never had heard that the threat of Mr. Carnegie to build a plant to rival the National Tube Company, organized by Mr. Morgan, and to build a railroad from Pittsburg to New York, connecting all his steel plants, had anything to do with it.

"Such matters as I learned were testified to by Mr. Gates before this committee," Mr. Gary said, "never were spoken of in our deliberations. I do not remember that Mr. Morgan ever mentioned these matters to me."

State Bank Examiner Clark Williams, of New York, probably will be subpoenaed to tell what he knew of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company stocks and collateral in the Trust Company of America and other banks in New York during the Moore and Schley incident and what reports had been made concerning them.

Former President Robert C. Hall, of the Pittsburg Stock Exchange, submitted to the committee a letter charging that the steel corporation throttles competition through its banking connections; that the corporation keeps tab on the independents through a spying system and protesting that the corporation is engaging in the purchase of 17,000 acres of Pittsburg and Connellsville coal lands now owned by the Pittsburg Coal & Coke Company, with a view to shipping coal to Gary, Ind.

SOUTHERN'S FIREMEN FIRM.

Mediators Still at Work to Avert the Threatened Strike.

Washington, D. C., June 7.—Representatives of the firemen on the Southern Railway were again before the mediators under the Erdman Act today, in an effort to bring about an amicable settlement of their controversy with the railroad regarding their demand for an increase of 20 per cent. in wages and better working conditions. The firemen held two lengthy sessions with the mediators and will again appear tomorrow. Both working conditions and wages were in discussion. The officials of the Southern Railway were not before the mediators today, but are to appear tomorrow.

Nothing is known of the progress being made by the mediators in solving the problem, but the firemen again today reiterated their oft-time statement that nothing less than a twenty per cent. increase would be satisfactory to the men.
